CHEST FUND CAMPAIGNERS IN ACTION

PROSPEROUS? FEEL IN POCKET TO SEE, ROGERS SUGGESTS

(Special To The News)

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Smith is broadcasting from Baltimore through WJZ. Hoover is broadcasting from Washington, through Senator Moses. Of all the "dumb" issues that candidates bring up to try and influence people how to vote, I think "prosperity" takes the cake.

How a speaker can convince a man that he is prosperous when he is broke or that he is not prosperous when he is doing well, is beyond me.

If a voter can't feel in his pocket and see if he is doing well without having some total stranger tell him, then this government shouldn't be in the hands of the people.

We might as well have candidates argue with us that we have a pain in our stomach.

Yours,

WILL.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Many a home telephone rang about seven o'clock this morning, that hasn't jingled at this time in the morning for many months. Community Chest headquarters was taking no chances on the members of the teams sleeping in and not getting to the Cathedral for the eight o'clock breakfast to start the two day campaign, and team members were called on the phone and reminded of the engagement.

And, by the way, the campaign is now under way. Do your bit.

Tonight's the night, down on the South Side. The organized celebration of Hallowe'en will take place in that district tonight. The uptown celebration takes place on Wednesday evening.

Work of grading Hazlecroft avenue between Carlisle and Mercer streets is under way. The contract will be completed within a few days.

Work is getting under way on the new bridge across the Neshannock at North street in a manner that indicates that the structure will be pushed to completion, without undue delay. This span should be ready for service next summer, at least.

The new fire engine and truck that has arrived in the city to be placed in service at the Central station, has aroused considerable admiration, as it has been driven about the city in the past few days. It looks like a powerful and serviceable piece of apparatus.

Pa Newc insists that there should be very legible warnings and plain view signs pertaining to corners without left hand turns. So many cities allow left hand turns that motorists from other towns not seeing the little paste board signs overhead make the left swings. Pa Newc saw three strangers doing it yesterday afternoon.

Some time ago one wrote to the News making the suggestion that men should get a two hour leave of absence during the working day to get to the polls. Not such a bad idea. Some plants could start work that much later in the morning and continue on later in the day. From all indications, something of the sort will have to be done if all will get to the polls in one day. It's a case of a day not being long enough on November 6

People may not be afraid of the police but they are of a credit exchange. It is one place where more tell tale signs are kept of prominence and otherwise than any other place in the world.

Societies today are attempting to find and mark graves of soldiers of other wars. Pa Newc wonders if in a hundred years from now similar societies will be hunting graves of all of the World War veterans and marking them.

A man was in town who claimed to be the world's champion hobo. Although he hasn't got the official title, he claimed it and hoped to get some free publicity. He sort of lost out on his reputation here as his ho-

Morning's Work Nets Near $6,000 For Chest Fund

First Reports Of Teams Are Made At Meeting At Cathedral At Noon

CAMPAIGN WILL END WEDNESDAY

Teams In Two-Day Whirlwind Drive To Reach Goal Set

With two hundred workers present and all of them determined to put the Community Chest of 1928-29 over the top, the first report meeting was held today at noon in the Cathedral dining room. A total of $5,861.55 was reported for this morning's work, bringing the total of the Chest to date to $36,861.55. The budget asked for is $80,000 and the workers expressed their determination of going out after the balance this afternoon and Wednesday.

Herbert A. Pears, who is in charge of this year's Chest drive, was in charge of the meeting at noon today and wasted no time in hearing speeches or anything extraneous to the drive. Immediately after the lunch was served he called for the reports of committees, with the result tabulated above.

Mrs. R. G. Maxwell High.

Mrs. R. G. Maxwell of the Almira Home team was high, reporting $1270. A single gift of $500 from Mrs. John D. Chapman, formerly of New Castle was reported.

Because of the intensive drive being staged this year it will be necessary for the workers to keep going from now until Wednesday night. Another report meeting will be held this

United Brethren Church At Shamokin Is Ruined By $125,000 Blaze

FIVE FAMILIES FORCED TO FLEE

(International News Service)

SHAMOKIN, Pa., Oct. 30.—Fire destroyed the First United Brethren church here early today with an estimated loss of $125,000. Cause of the blaze, which started in the furnace room in the basement of the structure, has not been determined.

Five families, including the pastor, the Rev. J. H. Behney, were forced to flee their homes when the flames threatened to spread to surrounding dwellings. Firemen, however, succeeded in confining the blaze to the church.

The fire was discovered by three young men enroute to their homes shortly after midnight. The pastor and other officials of the church said the building would be rebuilt. The loss was only partly covered by insurance.

All Is Ready For South Side Parade Tonight

Expect Hundreds Of Merrymakers To Take Part In Procession

MANY CASH PRIZES WILL BE AWARDED

Hartzell Huston Is Chairman In Charge Of South Side Event

Old Sol must have a lot of friends on the South Side. Or perhaps he was raised down in Slab Town and still has some affection for the old place. Whatever the reason the old boy has been smiling his prettiest today preparing for a perfect night for the South Side Hallowe'en Celebration which will take place this evening.

And if Old Sol is smiling he hasn't much on the general chairman of tonight's event, Hartzell Huston. Huston has a smile on that is touching both ears for the celebration which he and his various committees have been working on seems destined to be a triple plated success.

Plenty of Prizes

Plenty of prizes in cash is the word that went out today. The committee did not want to bother with merchandise prizes and the merchants all came through beautifully. Over $200.00 will be given in prizes starting with $25.00 for the best group, $10.00 for the best couple, a lot of $5.00 prizes for single winners. Then on top of all of that there are fifty cash prizes of $1.00 each for the little folks.

The parade begins at 7:30 from the corner of Long and Pollock when the Mummers will form. Promptly at 8:00 o'clock Grand Marshal Ivor V. Davis will lead his army over Pollock to Reynolds, down Reynolds to Mill, down Mill to Long, down Long to Sciota, down Sciota to Reiber, down Reiber to Moravia, down Moravia to Long, up Long to the Lincoln-Garfield school where the parade will disband

Extra Police To Aid Celebration

Chief Of Police Announces Program For Local Celebrations

Chief of Police C. C. Horner today issued instructions for the Hallowe'en parades to be held in the South Side this evening and in the downtown business district on Wednesday evening.

There will be extra police assigned for duty in the South Side this evening.

Motorists are requested to refrain from parking on the line of march in that section of the city this evening from 7 p. m. until after the parade.

Those watching the parade are requested to remain on the sidewalk, while it is in progress and not interfere with the procession.

Wednesday evening, all available members of the police department will be on duty for the purpose of handling the large crowd, which it is anticipated will be on hand to witness the celebration.

Motorists are requested to refrain from parking on the line of march from 7:30 p. m. until after the parade. Persons witnessing the parade are requested to remain on the sidewalk and not interfere with the marches.

It is desired that all persons participating in and witnessing the celebrations have as much fun as possible, but that everybody try and do their bit toward making it an orderly successful event.

Heavy Array Of Legal Lights Massing To Fight Case In Courts

(International News Service)

ATLANTA, Oct. 30—Battle lines were drawn today for one of the greatest legal fights in the southland's history. On one side, backed by two great fortunes, were an extensive array of counsel.

On the other were Atlanta's prosecutors who were determined to avenge society for two "thrill" murders.

In the vortex were two college youths, George Harsh and Richard Gallogly, who were indicted late yesterday for the holdup murders of Willard Smith and E. H. Meeks, store clerks. The killings were the culmination of an alleged career of lawlessness and banditry that extended over a period of weeks.

An attempt will be made by Ed A. Stephens, chief assistant solicitor general, to have the trials set for next week after next, it was learned today. A tentative date is Tuesday, November 13. If precedent is followed, the defense probably will elect to sever the cases, and the prosecution then will decide which of the alleged

At 8 a. m. (E. S. T.) the Graf was in the position of 49 west and 52.30 north and her speed had been reduced to 40 knots an hour owing to bad weather, according to word received by International News Service.

The airship was 600 miles east of the Newfoundland coast and 1,100 miles from Ireland. Commodore Eckener expects to pass over the Irish coast Wednesday noon.

CANDIDATES MAKE READY FOR FINALE

Huge Vote May Cause Delay In Definite Knowledge Of Result

By KENNETH CLARK
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Americans by the millions will troop to the polls a week from today to select a new President.

Whatever the outcome, it is certain that this year's election will be a record-breaker. Estimates of the total vote range from 30,000,000 to 35,000,000. The total in 1924 was 29,083,856; in 1920, 26,705,346.

Result May Be Delayed

The size of the vote may cause considerable delay in determining the verdict. Unless there is a landslide either to Herbert Hoover or Gov. Al Smith, the result may be in doubt until late Wednesday.

Few campaigns have aroused such public interest as this one. The issues have been fairly well drawn and partisanship feeling has been strong.

The Republicans have sought a continuance of power chiefly on the issue of prosperity and the record of the present administration. Smith has described the prosperity claim as a "sham".

Ready for Finish

Prohibition, agriculture and water power have become the prime controversial issues of the closing days and this has been so largely because Hoover characterized the Democratic stand

Says United States Using Zeppelin For Experimental Work

Berlin Newspaper Prints Statement Distasteful To United States

(International News Service)

BERLIN, Oct. 30.—The Berlin newspaper Tempox says today the United States navy is using the trans-Atlantic flights of the Graf Zeppelin as an experiment with a view to the possibility of using dirigibles in war manoeuvers.

According to the newspaper, all American ship and land radio stations have been ordered to intercept all messages transmitted from the Zeopelin, and to retransmit them to the navy department, from which the department is able easily to ascertain the Zeppelin's position at any given time.

The purpose of this procedure, the paper states, is to test out the possibilities of locating hostile air fleets by radio compass.

Leopold And Loeb Case Reflected In Atlanta Slayings

Clarence Darrow Likens Chicago Slaying With Harsh-Gallogly Case

CASE IS UNUSUAL, DARROW ASSERTS

By THEODORE B. GOETZ.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The Harsh-Gallogly "thrill murder" case in Atlanta presents some of the same interesting psychological questions and sociological problems which made the Loeb-Leopold case in Chicago one of the outstanding murder trials of our age, in the opinion of Clarence Darrow who saved the latter pair from death on the gallows.

The noted criminal defense lawyer was asked by International News Service to draw some parallels between the newest student crime for a thrill in which he was chief defense counsel. Darrow is making a speaking tour on behalf of the presidential candidacy of Gov. Al Smith.

"The case is unusual but it is not strange" Darrow said.

"Can you think of anything anyone does except for a thrill?" Darrow asked.

The famous lawyer said he thought every human act was motivated by a desire for a "thrill" of one sort or another. But Darrow saw many points of parallel between George Harsh and Nathan Leopold. In the Atlanta case Harsh has confessed it was he who planned and directed the store holdups in which two men were killed. Dick Gallogly he said was his follower. In the kidnapping and murder of Bobby Franks, Leopold was the master, Dicky Loeb was his accomplice.

"thrill" bandit-slayers will stand trial first.

Mass of Evidence.

Indications were that a voluminous mass of evidence would be amassed both by the defense and prosecution before the trial starts. It was believed, from the number of witnesses on hand at the grand jury probe, and others to be called, the trial would extend over a period of weeks.

However, trial for first degree murder was not the only court battle that stared the two scions of wealthy families in the face. Two civil litigations are ahead. First, Mrs. Mary Belle Smith, 19-year-old widow of one of the alleged victims, is suing for $100,000 damages, and I. V. Ellis, grocery store manager, is seeking $50,000 for a serious wound during one of the holdups attributed to the youths.

Chief of Detectives A. Lamar Poole declared that Gallogly, who at first denied any knowledge of the slayings, had made a "partial oral confession" since, but declined to divulge any details, fearing he would "jeopardize the state's case."

PARTY LEADERS ARE CONFIDENT HOOVER TO WIN

Hoover will win if the party's organization maintains the speed it has shown to date until after all votes are counted.

Carry On to End

Dr. Hubert Work, Republican national chairman, voiced the Hoover strategy in a radio address last night.

"I would warn all good Republicans and our friendly supporters from all parties that straw votes cannot reach or record the full sentiment or purpose of all voters," said Work. "The results of all straw votes indicate a gratifying predominant faith in our national candidates, but there must be no abatement of our efforts to get the vote cast—we must carry on to the end, up to the very hour that the polls close."

In his address Work also praised President Coolidge's administration, declared Republican prosperity was the principle issue in the campaign and assailed the Democrats for conducting a campaign of villification.

Leave Decision to People

"I am willing to leave to the judgments formed in the quiet of the family circle the decision between the calm and lofty appeals to intelligence and conscience of Herbert Hoover," said Work, "and the outpourings of abuse and ridicule, misrepresentation and flippant criticism which have constituted most of the speaking campaign of the opposition."

The closing drive of the Republicans meanwhile was centered on the radio. Work and Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon spoke last night. Charles Evans Hughes, the 1916 standard-bearer, and Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg will speak tonight. Senator William E. Borah, the "lone wolf", of Idaho, and Daniel A. Poling, editor of the Christian Herald, will speak tomorrow night.

Hoover Speaks Friday

Hoover, himself, will speak Friday night from St. Louis. Borah will close the campaign Saturday night, while Hoover will make a short address next Monday night from his Palo Alto, Calif., home.

The nominee has completed his St. Louis address. It will deal with the mid-west's waterway problem, the agricultural situation and the Republican party's farm relief program and several allied subjects. It will be Hoover's final bid for mid-western votes.

Hoover will leave here at five o'clock Thursday afternoon on his transcontinental trip. With stops scheduled in Maryland, West Virginia, Kentucky, Indiana, Missouri, Kansas, Colorado, Utah and Nevada, he will reach his California home late next Monday afternoon. His trip home will be undertaken to enable him to vote in Tuesday's election.

street as far as the P. and L. E. drive way where they will turn to the right. The line of march will turn left at Produce and left again at Kurtz way, winding back to Washington street and turning left to march back down to the heart of the city.

The next turn will be the right at North Mill, then left on North street, left on North Mercer down to Washington, and then to the right, marching down Washington street where the mummers will disperse for more informal times.

To Pass Judges

On the south side of Washington street just before the junction of the diamond and Cochran way, the judges stand will be built and there the judges will view the panorama of costumes and Hallowe'en wit. The judges who have been selected and who will serve on the bench will be the heads of the Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, V. F. W., Knights of Columbus and the American Legion.

Immediately after the disbanding of the line of march following the parade before the judgers stand, the winners, who will receive tags, will go immediately to the old fire house, states Ivor Davis, chairman, to get their awards. They should do this as soon as the parade has been completed as the judges will be there to make the various awards.

Prizes, states Mr. Davis, will be grouped under three main classifications. A, prizes for men; B, prizes for women; and C, prizes for children. All of the prizes will be awarded separately between these three groups.

The prizes will be awarded for a variety of things and it lies in the originality of the mummer whether he gets a prize. Such things as Jiggs, Maggie, Uncle Sam, clowns, tramps, best family groups, rube band, colored twins, best dressed man, best dressed woman and a multitude of other things. It is left up to the discretion of the mummer and his own originality will determine the award which he gets.

Final announcements concerning this great parade and celebration will be made tomorrow prior to the start of the parade. There are several other features such as bands for music which have not been announced as yet.

The mummers will be assembled in the line of march Wednesday evening by T. Wilbur McCullough, grand marshal.

ZEAL:

Hoover Inspires It in All Who Work With Him

Hoover fires others with the glory of a great task. What housewife can forget the food campaign during the war? In European countries, food rationing had been regulated by law, and managed by expensive police systems, and even then people evaded the law and hated the food dictator as an arch enemy of society. Hoover's food administration did not ration the consumers. Hoover invited the housekeepers to cooperate with him and help win the war. Millions of people all over the country responded with the loyalty of crusaders.

When in times of great disaster, Hoover has issued a call for volunteers for rescue work, men of splendid technical training and exceptional abilities have renounced high-paid jobs to work under Hoover for nothing.

DEFIANCE HURLED BY "AL" SMITH IN BALTIMORE SPEECH

last speech of the campaign outside New York. He closes the fight this week on home territory.

His spirit fired by the tidings that he might lose the eight electoral votes of Maryland because of religious opposition to him in rural Maryland, Governor Smith, with characteristic audacity chose Baltimore last night for one of the most sensational speeches of the entire campaign. He ripped into intolerance with both hands, denounced the Anti-Saloon League and the Ku Klux Klan by name, and while a breathless audience of 20,000 people hung on every word, he said:

"I would rather go down to ignominious defeat than to be raised to the greatest position in the gift of the people by any influence that may be exerted by any organization with such perverted ideas of Americanism."

Assails Anti-Saloon League

Just a few moments before he had paid his respects to the Anti-Saloon League, which he denounced as a propaganda organization", as an organization which intimated and threatened public officials, and which had set up an office across from the capitol "to keep an eye on these fellows" in Congress.

The Democratic nominee went into the subject of the morality of prohibition. And while 20,000 people roared their approval of his sentiments, he declared that opposition to prohibition could not, by any stretch of dogma, be construed to be anti-religious.

Governor Smith boldly criticized the churches for their espousal of the 18th amendment and the Volstead act, and their making it an issue in this campaign.

"For as long back as I can remember every religion teaches us the value of sobriety, it teaches us the value of temperance and the dangers of intolerance. It must be quite a shock to the American people to have the moral power of the church used to impress men and women with the idea that in talking against the 18th amendment or the Volstead act they are against every church, or that they have sinned against God himself."

Attacks Klan

The governor went further than his Oklahoma City speech on intolerance when he directly laid at the door of the Republican party much of the intolerance which he said was characterizing the campaign.

"I have in mind," he said with obvious sarcasm, "that gallant band of patriots known as the Ku Klux Klan.

"Certainly," he went on, "nobody would have the hardihood to deny that that organization is promoting the Republican candidacy."

Governor Smith left Baltimore at midnight. He was told by Democratic leaders before he left that the free state's electoral votes are safe for him next week, despite the opposition in rural Maryland, where the religious and prohibition issues are paramount.

Deaths of the Day

Carroll Davis.

Word has been received by relatives in this city of the death, of Carroll Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Davis, formerly of East Brook, which occurred at the family home in Estridge, Kansas after an extended illness.

Besides his parents the young man leaves two brothers and three sisters. He also leaves a number of cousins in New Castle. Funeral services will take place Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Cunningham Buried.

Funeral services for the late Joseph Jay Cunningham, well known railroad man of this city, were conducted from the family home, 511 West Clayton street, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. D. C. Schnebly, pastor of the Mahoning Presbyterian church, officiated, assisted by Rev. Charles Bell of Ellwood City.

The home was filled with many sorrowing relatives and friends. A profusion of beautiful floral emblems banked the casket, expressing sympathy and esteem.

INTERESTING SPEAKERS FOR WOMAN'S CLUB

Members of the Woman's club had an open meeting in the Highland U. P. church auditorium Monday afternoon when Mrs. Lucia Ames Mead of Boston, nationally known writer and lecturer, delivered an address on "Causes and Cure of War."

Lloyd George said, "One nation had been ready and thinking in 1914."

Mrs. Mead's reply to this was that in her opinion was might have been prevented with discussion.

All over the country Mrs. Mead is considered one of the ablest and best informed speakers in the whole peace movement, and was greeted as such by her audience yesterday.

Current topics were then discussed by Dr. Thomas Blaisdell, author, lecturer, traveler around the world and professor at Slippery Rock State Teachers college.

Before Dr. Blaisdell started his talk he paid Mrs. Mead a high compliment stating that it was the best lecture on the subject he had ever had the opportunity of hearing.

THE COMMUNITY CHEST DRIVE

SEVERAL hundred public spirited citizens are engaged in a two day drive to raise the amount sought for the New Castle Community Chest. The sum this year is $80,000.

It should be raised and raised speedily, if all who are obligated to share this obligation would do their honest part.

Survey of the organizations during the past year and the reorganization of the various agencies in the chest has resulted in operation of all on a desirable and efficient basis, and it is the belief of all connected with the campaign that the money asked is needed to continue normal operations.

There's nothing to argue!

Carry your share of this community obligation.

KNOW HOW YOU'RE GOING TO VOTE—VOTE EARLY

ONE week from today is election day.

Indications are that in the city of New Castle and in Lawrence county, there will be the largest vote recorded that has ever been cast here.

It is realized on all sides that in order to have this record vote properly polled, there must be some unusual preparation for the day.

The county authorities are attempting to meet the situation by placing more ballot boxes and voting booths in some of the precincts where the heaviest registration has been shown, but there will be needed unusual co-operation of the voters in order that all who are registered shall get a chance to vote.

Because of the size of the ballot, and the fact that 14 amendments are to be voted on there is grave danger that many voters will consume too much time in the voting booths.

The duty of every voter is to be familiar with the ballot before going to the voting place, so that he can cast his ballot with speed, and make way for others.

It is likewise the duty of all voters, and especially the women of the city and county, who are in a position to do so, to get to the polls early in the day and vote, so that they will leave the polling places open later in the day for those who can't go to vote early.

This is a situation that demands some manifestation of the spirit of give and take.

Get to the polls early, and know how you are going to vote before you go.

PENNSYLVANIA HAS MUCH AT STAKE

FOUR years ago Pennsylvania voters sent a solid delegation of thirty-six Republican congressmen to Washington to help President Coolidge and a Republican administration carry out policies which have been beneficial to the industries and the workingmen of the Keystone state. Next Tuesday the personnel of the Pennsylvania delegation is again to be chosen by the voters and special appeals are being made for the election of Republicans to congress so that constructive policies may be continued.

Pennsylvania, possibly more than any other state, is interested in the furtherance of Republican rule. The great industries of the state are dependent upon the continuance of the Republican protective tariff. The wage earners are dependent upon the industries being protected against the importation of foreign-made goods produced under wage scales that are far below the American standards.

There is every indication that the next congress will undertake some revision of the tariff law. Foreign competition has already hit many Pennsylvania industries and only the flexible feature of a Republican tariff act, which permits the president to increase the tariff on cost of production proofs, has saved some of these industries from closing their plants and throwing thousands of men and women out of work.

Nicholas Longworth, speaker of the house of representatives, has devoted much of his campaign work to presenting views of what tariff revision under Democratic rule would mean. He says:

"Under the constitution and rules of the house, all revenue and tariff measures are framed by the ways and means committee. The present Democratic representation on that committee consists of ten members, eight from states having practically no manufacturing or general agricultural industries, and only two representing New York and Illinois, which have such industries.

"The barest sort of analysis of the Democratic plank will convince anyone that instead of being protective of American industry and labor, it is on the contrary, protective of foreign industry and labor. Instead of giving an advantage to an American producer in the American market, it gives an advantage to a foreign producer in selling goods in that market.

"In a word, the Democratic party lays down a policy that the extreme measure of protection shall be duties which shall permit effective competition on the part of foreign producers on the American market. Effective competition can mean only one thing, that the foreign producer shall have at the very least, a slight advantage over the home-producer in selling his goods here.

"Let us consider for a moment the labor cost alone as an element of production. It is in most cases the largest and often the predominant element in the cost of production of any article. Wages in America are at

One More Week.

Order Your Automobile.

The Count's Nuisance.

Hopeful Durant.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE

One more week of asking "What do you think?" When everybody will say "Of course you might have known it." And the excitement that comes every fourth year will be forgotten by Tuesday, Nov. 14.

Meanwhile some men, afraid of their shadows, will let their fears sell stocks for them. And as they scramble to buy them back later they will feel as some credulous person did in the year 1000.

Those ancients felt sure that the world was coming to an end. A. D. 1000 seemed such a nice round number. They sold their property for almost nothing, gave the money to the church to buy salvation, put on a white gown and climbed a hill, that Gabriel might not miss them and the world did not end.

Twenty-four million automobiles are running in this country. There ought to be 35,000,000 running now and more later. If you have not got your car, place your order tomorrow.

This advice is not so much for the prosperous, as for those of moderate means, intelligent wage earners especially.

An automobile means saving money, adding to life's length by putting more into life. It is not how long you live, but how much you live, that counts.

Thomas MacAuley, who raises thoroughbred horses at Allaire, N. J., decided that his children ought to see Niagara Falls, call on their uncle, Andrew Gardner, and other relatives in the Genessee valley on the way.

In a modern four-door, inexpensive sedan, he devoted one week to the round trip, covering 1,000 miles.

Said he on his return, "it cost me just $12 for myself, my wife and four of my children, to make that trip. I never changed a tire, never noticed any of the hills, never stopped, except when I wanted to."

Six passengers traveling 1,000 miles for $12 is cheap travel. Beyond the cost of eating, drinking and lodging that family of six could go in their car from New York to San Francisco for $36. That interests railroads. A sleeping tent and an oil stove on the running board, solve the lodging and eating problem for many.

The automobile is especially the blessing of those that are not rich.

Order your car now. It is extravagance not to have a car. If you find garage charges too high in the city, move to the country or suburbs, where your garage will not cost anything.

The French count, Pierre Marie Raymond de Crouzel Rayssac, found his 17-months-old illegitimate son a nuisance, having arranged to marry a rich young woman. So he threw the nuisance in the river.

The count, convicted of murder, remarks, "I am much to blame. I lost control of myself."

He did that more thoroughly than he knew. The French mob takes a particular interest in the under dog and demands vengeance for that dead baby.

The count's long name cannot be shortened, but his physical corpus can and probably will be. Around the guillotine the mob will yell, as he walks out from the dark prison door: "On va te Raccouseir d'Une Tete," which means: "You will be made shorter by the length of one head."

W. C. Durant, back from Europe, is hopeful, as Charles M. Schwab, or a young robin starting on its first flight, and says prices will go higher. Prices are not too high, he says. "They were too low a year ago."

Durant probablby has bought a few. He knows enough not to sell short.

Before you sell or make up your mind that prices are too high, remember wise old Carnegie. He said it was a shame to sell the regular bonds of United States Steel to the foolish public. As for the preferred stock it was only "air", not even water. And he would not mention the common stock. He could have had $100,000,000, par value, of it for nothing.

Carnegie was right, then U. S. Steel was largely air and water. But it had hope and intelligence mixed with the air and water.

And it was in growing America.

At Saturday's closing prices the stock that Carnegie wouldn't take for nothing was worth $222,400,000.

And the share of General Motors that you could have bought for $50 in war times, when the stock exchange was closed, is worth now more than $5,000. Be cautious about deciding that things in America are too high. And don't gamble.

Dr. Eckener's decision to fly back across the ocean, postponing his inland trip, is wise.

The Zeppelin was built for trans-Atlantic travel and the important thing is to demonstrate, as frequently as possible, the safety and time-saving qualities of the German craft.

Ten trans-Atlantic trips by Graf Zeppelin will establish trans-Atlantic air travel. What a satisfiction for Sun sets tonight 4:59. Sun rises tomorrow 6:28.

It won't be long now!

A week from today it will be all over. Good time to do some thinking between now and then.

He says prudery has devitalized life. Wonder how he feels about the smoking of cigs by the girls? If he keeps on life will be worth living at least by the men.

If this political excitement keeps up we may get out 50 per cent of the vote on November 6.

A lady complained to us yesterday that so many other women say to her "Oh, how fat you are getting!" She says she does not weigh any more than she ever has. We told her if she wanted to give those girls a real shock when they say that to her is to reply "Oh, how old you look!" We are betting they will keep their faces shut after that.

A more disgusted lot of knicker wearers never assembled under one roof. It must be terrible to be a golf player when it rains.

We always did boost for the High School Band. It is an institution that deserves support by the citizens of New Castle. It is always ready to appear when needed and no pay expected or questions asked. The band needs new uniforms and part of the proceeds of the game next Saturday in this city will be given to the band for new uniforms. You can help a lot by going to the game next Saturday. There ought to be someway for the band to get the uniforms without argument, but it seems this is the only way unless some patriot comes forth and pays for them. If we were president of the school board we would pay for the uniforms.

CHEESE MADE AT GROVE CITY

One day last week there appeared in The News an advertisement for the sale of Roquefort and Swiss cheese. When we read the ad, we got interested at once and tried to buy some locally, just to see what kind of cheese was being made in Grove City. We found none on sale, so we wrote The Grove City Creamery Co. at Grove City. We have received a letter from R. F. Flint, manager of the creamery, which contains some interesting facts and we are reproducing part of his letter below:

Grove City, Pa., Oct. 26, 1928.

Mr. Fred L. Rentz,
The News Co.,
New Castle, Pa.

Dear Sir:—It is interesting to know that a publisher reads his own publication, but doubtless the advertising columns are of chief interest.

During the closing two weeks of 1927 we sent Roquefort and Swiss cheese into 34 states, the District of Columbia and Canada.

Both of these cheeses are manufactured on a semi-experimental-commercial basis at this plant, the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Dairying co-operating in the experimental side of the activities. So far as the writer knows this is the only place in the U. S. manufacturing Roquefort from the milk of cows. There is a place in California making it from goat's milk, I understand, but do not know the name.

Drive over some Tuesday for Rotary and we will be pleased to show whatever activities of the creamery you may be interested in.

Yours very truly,
THE GROVE CITY CREAMERY,
R. F. Flint, Manager.

Just the same one never knows how they are going to vote in spite of the fact that they swear when they register that they are either Republicans or Democrats and then vote just the opposite. Some people think it all right to swear they are one thing when they register and then vote some other way. We never could see that.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

THE GERMANS AGAIN.

Research work in developing a new method of producing steel directly from iron ore is reported contemplated by two large German firms, the Friedrich Krupp Aktiengesellschaft and the United States Steel Works (Vereinigte Stahlwerke, Aktiengesellschaft) which have recently formed a new company for the purpose with an official capital of 100,000 marks, the Trade Commissioner at Berlin, James B. Wallis, Jr., informed the Department of Commerce, October 8.

The new company is known as The Sponge Iron Company (Eisenschwamm Gesellschaftbeschraenkter Haftung.) Both parent companies are understood to have been doing research work along these lines for some time. After testing a number of processes, they are said to have decided to develop "Norsk-Staal" method, by which steel is produced at low temperatures with gas. In this process the iron does not become fluid, and the finished product is of a spongy consistency.

It is said that the consumption of gas is not excessive, as it is used repeatedly for reducing the ore. On the other hand, large quantities of electric current is required, but it is understood that this can be produced at low cost by using by-product gas.

Construction work on this experimental plant has already been started and it is estimated that its yearly production of steel will amount to about 20,000 tons. If results at the trial plant are satisfactory, it is believed possible that production of steel by this method may be gone into on a large scale. It is said that this plant is the first large experimental venture of this kind in Germany. Other methods, such as that used by the Hoesch Iron and Steel Company, have been carried out on a much smaller scale.

It sounds like another effort to get something for (comparatively) nothing.

Tribute To MacDonald Marred By Thought Tragedy Was Futile

Many Observers Feel That Life Of Daring Young British Flyer Was Wasted In Trans-Atlantic Attempt

Warm tribute is paid by the American press to the magnificent daring of Lieutenant Commander H. C. MacDonald, the young British naval officer who disappeared in an attempt to fly the Atlantic alone in a tiny airplane, although many observers regret what they regard as useless sacrifice of valuable life in such adventures.

"The truth probably is," in the opinion of the CHARLESTON EVENING POST, "that the public enthusiasm for the achievement of trans-Atlantic flying virtually blew itself out in the celebration of Lindbergh, the volume and intensity of which, it almost seems, must have surprised even those who were most delirious at the moment and who must sometimes wonder why the thrill cannot be recaptured. Perhaps it was out of all proportion to the actual value of the achievement, save as an exhibition of supreme human courage and self-confidence and of amazing endurance, but these of course have a moral value which is not to be estimated."

Further reference to the Lindbergh example is made by the HARTFORD COURANT with the suggestion that, "while MacDonald's venture may have looked reckless to many observers it did not look a bit more reckless than Lindbergh's looked when that fine young man was winging his way toward France. Nor should it be forgotten that not all Lindbergh's skill and experience would have saved him from death had his motor gone dead while he was far from a ship or a practicable landing place. It is to be hoped," continues The Courant, "that this flight will not encourage agitation to prevent aviators from making whatever experiments they choose to make. Their lives are their own, and they should be allowed to use them as they will. Unless they are left free of restrictions the progress of aviation will be seriously hampered."

Similarly the ELMIRA STAR-GAZETTE argues: "He knew the danger he faced, but 'took a sporting chance.' Such chances do not appeal to most men, sitting safe at home; nor is the value of the end to be attained in another trans-Atlantic flight clear. Yet the world owes too much to men to whom danger acts only as a spur to venture criticism of such gallant adventurers who play the game with their lives at stake."

The value of proper preparedness for such ventures is emphasized by several papers. The CLEVELAND NEWS declares: "A duplication of the Lindbergh achievement is not necessary. The Atlantic is still more than a match for haphazard stunt flyers. Courage alone is not a sufficient qualification for an ocean hop. With due respect to the memory of a brave man, we cannot refrain from expressing our conviction that MacDonald threw his life away in a useless venture. How different was the feat of the Zeppelin. Every minute detail was given preliminary analysis. The ship was in command of the ablest expert upon dirigibles the world has produced, and in spite of all this, an accident in mid-ocean called for some heroic repair work."

"The Atlantic does not take note of courage alone when it fights its invaders," warns the ST. LOUIS TIMES with the suggestion that "MacDonald's plane apparently was inadequate for the possible buffetings it might receive. His fuel store was of ghastly madequacy for overriding the visitation of hard luck. The only outstanding armament he had aboard was his courage." The BAY CITY TIMES adds that "at this time of year the North Atlantic is generally upset with storms" and "it was largely because of this condition that the Graf Zeppelin went hundreds of miles to the south of the North Atlantic route on its trip to the United States."

"He did what he had wanted to do," says the ALBANY EVENING NEWS, with the comment that notwithstanding the fact that "he was not a very experienced pilot" and that "the chances were against him; he was ready to risk his life for his dream and none could hold him back, not even the love of his wife. And what of her?" continues The News. "There is the tragedy of it. She has lost him, who went out to make his dream come true. Was it worth while?"

"He was not any publicity hound, such as so many of those others, women and men, who have undertaken the air passage of the Atlantic for the notoriety of it," thinks the ASHEVILLE TIMES, with the comment: "What happened? The world will probably never know. Nor will it know why MacDonald, without much experience in flying, was willing to risk his life alone in a far from powerful aircraft in flight across the sea. Another brave man has, it now seems, thrown away his life without very good reasons for it."

"The destination of his craft, the Gypsy Moth plane," remarks the BELOIT DAILY NEWS, "offers suggestive connotation of foolish creatures flying around a light till they burn off their wings. Some of our trans-Atlantic flying has been very mothminded. Fame's beacon is a potent but illusory lure that has proved a will o' the wisp for many."

The MANCHESTER UNION asserts further: "It is a misfortune that these foolhardy attempts continue. They are robbing us of some of our most daring and efficient aviators, and all to no purpose. If any result were accomplished by these flights, if they were helping in any way to promote trans-Atlantic air travel, the sacrifices would be accepted as a necessary toll for those gains. But no purpose is being served other than to discourage that project and make it impracticable."

"It may be hoped that no more fliers will be inclined to follow the tragic example of MacDonald," contends the KALAMAZOO GAZETTE which explains: "He started forth with every conceivable odd against him. His plane was a tiny craft of the Moth type, equipped with none of the safety devices used on the larger aerial cruisers, and hardly sturdy enough to weather anything but the mildest kind of Atlantic storms. The aviator picked a season of the year in which flying conditions are far from favorable to long distance flights of the sort undertaken, and he elected to make his flight without the physical or moral support of a companion."

Dr. Crane's Editorial

DISCIPLINE AND SUICIDE

Suicide stands for the absolute collapse of a personality.

The thoroughbred is one who goes on no matter what happens.

In a New York play some years ago was a line as follows: "You go till you can't go any further, you stand it to the limit of human endurance, and then you stand it for another minute." That expresses the indomitable will of man.

History is full of instances where men have surmounted apparently insurmountable obstacles. Crippled, they have gone on fighting on their knees. Deaf and blind they have not acknowledged defeat.

Henley's lines about one's head being "bloody but unbowed" express the sentiment of heroism in all of us.

Since the ending of the war the suicide rate has gone up all over the world.

To avoid starvation, it is said, entire families in China have poisoned themselves.

All this presents a very serious question. What makes life worth living? And what is it makes us want to quit it?

If we think the matter over carefully we can hardly help coming to the conclusion that the joy of life is inseparably bound up with discipline.

We are full of strange forces. Our passions, desires, longings, ambitions, hopes and shames act within us as fierce electricities.

The first lesson of youth should be discipline.

Not by some one else, but by one's self.

It is not obedience, but self mastery, that brings power and joy.

It is the undisciplined who slump.

It is they who have never learned, and have not perfected in practice the art of self-control, who rush to suicide.

Suicide is the tragedy of weakness. Strength and the disciplined soul never experience tragedy.

They always triumph, as did Socrates drinking his poison and Jesus upon the cross. We do not pity these two, we stand in awe of them.

The most fundamental and the truest of all creeds is belief in life. And we do not believe in life unless we master it.

To be continually blown about, to rush from excess to regret, alternately to coddle and curse a bad habit, to whine everlastinly at the inevitable, to be a plaything of events and to have no skill of adjustment—this is the story of the undisciplined.

And it is the high road to suicide.

THE LITTLE THINGS

The little things we fret about
How trivial they are!
And yet they bring regret about
And cause us many a jar.
The little things of sham and pride,
Of selfishness and greed,
Will often honest friends divide
And cause a heart to bleed.

The little things we fret about,
The broken cup and plate,
The argument we bet about
That often ends in hate,
The fancied slur that wasn't meant
Which sharp reprisal brings,
Oh, half the big world's discontent
Is due to silly things.

The little things we fret about
Aren't worth the rage we spend.
They're things we should forget about
In laughter let them end.
For sorrows hurts let's save our tears,
We'll need them one and all,
Let's not go grumbling through the years
O'er silly cares and small.

Philadelphia Looks To Mayor Mackey To Clean Up Policemen

Grand Jury Says Almost Half Of City Police Officials Are Unfit

Show Total Deposits Of Several Officers In Few Years to Be $789,000

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30.—What will the mayor do?

That was the question that troubled Philadelphians today following a fourth report by the special "racket" and jury branding almost half of the city's police officials "unfit to hold any public office."

To back up their assertion the jurors revealed 21 officials, three inspectors and 18 captains, had deposited more than $789,000 in a few years on salaries ranging from $2500 to $4000 annually. In addition the bluecoats own expensive automobiles and homes and many have large families. The jurors declared they do not believe this money could have been obtained honestly by the policemen on the small salaries they received. The presentment covered 13 typewritten pages and gave a report on the forties of each official. In addition the report indicated that other officials were under suspicion and will be dealt with.

The report, the fourth since the jury was ordered to probe gang slayings, bootlegging and other criminal activities here, ten weeks ago, came as a surprise. It was filed with Judge Lewis last night.

Mayor Harry A. Mackey was confined to his home with a cold and consequently took no action at the time. The realignment of the police districts to conform with the ward boundaries was blamed in part by the jury for inducing graft by police officials. Judge Lewis voiced his opinion that politics must be separated from the police force after hearing the report.

May Get Job

"We will try to get him back to the United States in the best possible way although I do not know yet where the funds will come from," Consul General Hurst told International News Service.

It is possible that the American Club will furnish money from the emergency fund for stranded Americans.

"He must be a bright boy," said Director Colsman, of the Zeppelin works at Friedrichshafen. "We like him for his enterprise and we shall take good care of him. We had another stowaway when the airship Bodensee was delivered to Rome in 1921. Dr. Eckener was so pleased with the youth's air enthusiasm that he gave him a permanent job. ST. LOUIS, Oct. 30.—Clarence Terhune, the adventurous 19-year-old St. Louis youth who "crashed the gate of the Graf Zeppelin" and is now washing dishes aboard the big airship as the first trans-Atlantic air stowaway, boarded the Zeppelin as the result of a bet with his brother-in-law, G. N. Hall.

This was revealed today by Clarence's sister, Mrs. G. N. Hall. Clarence until a few months ago lived with the Halls.

"The bet was a big joke of course," Mrs. Hall told newspaper reporters. "Clarence made it long before the big Zeppelin came to this country. 'How much do you want to bet that I can't crash my way aboard the big ship,' Clarence asked George, my husband."

"George laughed. He thought Clarence was fooling. They didn't either of them put up anything. But I guess Clarence must have taken it pretty seriously."

BERLIN, Oct. 30.—The Graf Zeppelin entered an area of good weather today after a storm of cyclonic proportions which lasted through Monday afternoon and last night, according to a copyrighted message filed from the airship at 10:30 a. m., Eastern Standard time, by Rolf Brandt, correspondent of Lokalanzeiger, who is a passenger.

At that time the Grap had covered one-third of the ocean route and one half the total trip from Lakehurst, N. J., to Germany.

PLAN TO GIVE POSTAL CLERKS FULL HOLIDAY

All Unnecessary Service Will Be Suspended This Christmas

Instructions reaching the New Castle postoffice from Postmaster General Harry S. New state that postmasters throughout the country are being asked to so arrange their mail dispatching schedule that it may permit the suspension of all postal work at midnight on the evening of December 24, to continue until 12 p. m. on Christmas night, in order to give clerks, carriers and others an opportunity of observing the Christmas holiday with their families.

This same plan was successfully carried out in 1925, and it is believed that this year's holiday can be observed likewise. Only those employes that are required to carry out the regular special delivery schedule, and other employes that might be necessary for various work, will be asked to be on hand. With the exception of the special delivery carriers, their duties will be only to receive and store the mail and not work it. Specials, however, will receive regular attention.

It is believed that in this city much of the assurance of this plan rests on the residents. They are requested to mail their parcels early, so as to make the work of those who work on Christmas day just as light as possible.

Activities at all postoffices will be resumed at midnight on December 25, while the office will be out in full force for regular work on the morning of the day after Christmas.

Officer Named On South Side Committee

Detective John Young, who previous to becoming a member of the city detective force, was a patrolman for many years in the Fifth and Eighth wards, will again be back on duty there tonight for the big Hallowe'en celebration. He has not only been named on the committee in charge but his presence was especially requested.

the spirit of old Count Zeppelin, who gave his life and fortune to the ships named for him.

Governor Hughes told his Buffalo audience that Mr. Hoover's term "state Socialist", applied to Democratic politics, has nothing whatever to do with socialism as ordinarily understood. Hoover referred to Bismarck's state socialism designed to take the wind out of Karl Marx's theories and Germany's socialistic party.

But millions of Democrats will die and worms will eat them, convinced that Herbert Hoover called Governor Smith "a Socialist", meaning the kind that speaks from soap boxes, and preaches all kinds of queer things such as "poverty should be abolished, mothers should not have to work, a country as rich as this should provide enough for all, there should be no tax on the house in which a poor man raises his children," and heaven knows what else besides.

The government will build 34 passenger steamers to compete with the finest afloat in the world's ocean traffic. Congratulations to all concerned. The ships will have high speed and cause the American flag to see other parts of the world.

Thirty-four ships of the fleet could be devoted to carrying public school teachers at nominal cost, letting the country's teachers see foreign lands in comfort, that would be a good thing for the next generation.

Everything that you do for school teachers helps the country's future. The suggestion may be called "paternalism" but what of it. Public schools were called paternalism and "robbery of the rich" once.

According to reliable testimony, intelligent gentlemen in the power business influenced directly the writing of opinions of young people in high schools.

They might have got that idea from Voltaire's chapter on statesmen (Hommes d'Etat) in his "Philosophical Dictionary".

Voltaire tells his readers that he writes, not for statesmen of today, who are too busy to listen to him, but for those that are young and that will control the country later, and went even farther than he would have advised. It is said of Voltaire that he wrote many volumes and his last volume was the French revolution.

A second advance within a week puts the price of copper to 15 3-4 cents a pound.

If those who build, from farmers making their barns rat-proof, or putting in new rain water gutters, to men erecting 50-story buildings in cities, knew the value of copper in building and its economy, copper would go up again, and go up often.

Good copper mine or good copper stock is a valuable possession.

least three times as high as in any country in Europe and ten or twenty times as high as in the Orient. Unless a duty in favor of American producers is imposed on all directly competing articles at the very least equal to the difference in production cost, then the American market is surrendered to the foreigner. An inadequate duty in this respect is as bad as no duty at all. A duty, for instance, which fails by, say, twenty per cent to equalize the production cost here and abroad will give our market over to the foreign producer just as effectively as a duty which so fails by one hundred per cent. To guarantee to the foreign producer such duties as will at all times permit him to "effectively" compete in the American market is just as much to their advantage as to guarantee them a free market. Yet that is what the Democratic platform says in terms.

"What effect would such a policy have upon American industry if enacted into law? Precisely the effect of every Democratic tariff law. To cause the American producer to adopt one of two alternatives; either to quit business or to cut wages.

"With a house of representatives controlled by the Republican party and an effective majority in the United States senate, with Hoover and Curtis at the executive helm, America will continue her march to the heights—to heights undreamed of by the Fathers of the Republic."

Wife Gets $500 For Hubby's Lost Love

BALTIMORE, Oct. 30.—Five hundred dollars is the valuation set by a jury on the affections of Howard C. Jubb, who, by his own admissions on the witness stand, has pictures of 35,000 women and has gone with many of them. His wife, Mrs. Lillian Jubb, had sued Miss Marie Hunger for $10,000 damages. Miss Hunger's mother was joined in the suit for abetting her daughter's conduct.

Both Jubb and Miss Hunger admitted having exchanged presents, he giving her a watch while she gave him a ring. Jubb's father testified against him, saying Mrs. Jubb was "the finest woman I ever saw." The jury thought $500 was all the sheik's affections were worth.

PETER'S ADVENTURES in ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

A SIGN OF GOOD LUCK

"White-Coat and Red-Feathers were as curious as curious could be. They had never before in all their young lives, seen or heard anything like what they were now seeing or hearing. They flew nearer to try to find out what the to-do was all about. Suddenly the two-legs gave a great cry.

"'A sign! A sign! The Spirit of the Nile has sent us a sign! Here are two strange birds; they have come to tell us that the waters will rise!'

"Both the birds understood, but if ever they wished they could speak the language of the two-legs, it was right then. How they would like to have asked these queer people what they meant. But all they could do was to wait around and see what happened.

"As White-Coat and Red-Feathers hovered above the heads of the people suddenly a shrill voice screamed:

"'The birds have brought us luck! The waters are rising! The waters are rising! The Spirit of the Nile has heard and answered the players of the people of Egypt!'

"'What strange land is this, where the waters "rise" and the people take our coming as a sign of good luck, as if we had anything to do with it?' asked Red-Feathers in amazement of his companion. 'Never in all my life have I heard of a river that overflowed its banks. I do not believe it is possible. These people must have gone mad.'

"'Just because you have happened not to have heard of it does not make a thing impossible, Red-Feathers,' laughed White-Coat a trifle scornfully.

"'I agree with you it does sound a bit queer, but there may be something in it after all. If these people have lived in this land all their lives they must know what they are doing, and as far as I can make out they have been praying to the spirit of the river for water. That must mean it has not rained in these parts for a long time.

"'Just look at the heaps of sand and the dusty palm trees! How hot and dry and sad everything looks. I, for one, intend to hang around and find out what happens.'

"'All right if you say so,' declared Red-Feathers. 'I am with you, brother, whatever you do. But I think it is a waste of time. What do you suppose the two-legs meant by calling our coming good luck? That is what interests me the most of all. Listen, they are singing—and yes, as sure as I'm an Ibis, it is about us they are chanting.'"

ASTOUNDING CASE OF QUICK RELIEF THROUGH KONJOLA

Stomach Miseries Of Long Standing Conquered By Merits Of Master Medicine.

MR. G. W. ZAHNISER

Konjola has already been a blessing to hundreds of people in New Castle and nearby towns. It has made men and women in all walks of life happy with the knowledge that life for them will no longer be one gloomy day after the other, suffering miseries, but has given them the joy of living by banishing the common ailments of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

One report after the other is being received by the Konjola Man at the Love and Megown Drug Store, 204 East Washington street, this city, from sufferers who have already been relieved of their health troubles. For instance Mr. G. W. Zahniser, 914 West Washington street, this city, made the following statement:

"What a wonderful thing it is to be relieved of pains and suffering which one has had for a long time. That is just why I am indorsing Konjola—because it has restored my health", said Mr. Zahniser.

"For quite a long time my stomach had been in an extremely disordered condition. It was impossible to eat a meal without suffering miseries immediately afterward. Food soured and fermented gasses which brought on severe stomach pains in the pit of my stomach. I was subject to such dizzy spells that it was impossible to stand up and many times I have fallen to the floor. Hot and cold flashes came over me all the time. My kidneys were so irregular that my rest was disturbed at all hours of the night. I was forced to rise as often as seven times a night. I got up feeling tired and tore worn-out to do my work.

"Konjola was so highly recommended that I decided to give it a trial and what a lucky day it was for me when I first started on the treatment. Right from that time on I began to improve and today there is not a single trace of one of the former troubles left in my system. Konjola regulated the stomach organs so that they act in a natural manner on the food I eat. I never fear any ill after effects such as I formerly suffered. The dizzy spells vanished soon after I started on the treatment and they have never returned. Konjola also strengthened my kidneys so that I can sleep through the entire night without rising a single time and when I get up the next morning I am filled with new life, energy and glorious health. In every way I have been benefited as I shall always praise Konjola as the only medicine that helped me."

Konjola contains the juices from twenty-two roots and herbs combined with other recognized medical ingredients. It works as Nature intends—restoring a more, normal healthy action to the important functionary organs of the body. In the majority of cases the former sufferer reports permanent and sure relief from his or her trouble.

Worthy Mechanism Characterizes Every Grogan Timepiece

When in Pittsburgh visit our store

Instruments of precision

The Grogan Company, with its space practically doubled, now occupies the entire ground floor with shops and offices on the second floor of the Grogan Building at Wood Street and Sixth Avenue. This gives to Pittsburgh one of the world's outstanding jewelry establishments, both in beauty of appointments and broad range of precious merchandise.

GROGAN watches and clocks are "instruments of precision." There are many fine models exemplifying the talents of both watchmaker and jeweler, some of which are adorned with precious stones, but in every instant the case is regarded with favor only when it houses an accurate and worthy mechanism. A visit to this department will be found most interesting.

Mellon Champions Republican Cause

Treasury Secretary Speaks In Behalf Of Hoover And Upholds Tariff Stand

Says Republican Party Has Been Constructive Body For Best Interests

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30—Deploring the sort of "misrepresentation and appeals to prejudice which have been such a regrettable feature of this campaign," Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, in a speech broadcast on behalf of Herbert Hoover, went into the tariff, immigration, agricultural and prosperity issues in detail.

"The Republican party, in general, has been the constructive party, whose policies have tended to build up and promote stability, while the Democratic party, not infrequently, has championed measures which if enacted into law would have had the opposite effect," Mellon said.

Assails Smith.

He assailed Smith's tariff stand for gradual revision and removal from politics, remarking that "so closely is the tariff interwoven into the whole texture of our economic life that no material change could be made without necessitating far reaching adjustments in business, in anticipation of such a change."

"The tariff never can be taken entirely out of politics so long as congress must legislate on the subject," Mellon said. "Our tariff policy has been responsible largely for the development of manufacturing in this country. Our tariff and immigration policies have brought labor the highest real wages in its history."

Mellon declared that as a business man and Republican he was distrustful of any candidate or party when they offer some recently discovered and "miraculous cure-all for economic ills." He said that the "free silver" cure-all was proposed in 1896 and that now again a cure-all is proposed —the McNary-Haugen principle f farm relief.

Mme. POLISH VOTERS ARE FOR HOOVER

Leader In Pittsburgh Says That Fellow-Citizens Will Support Hoover

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington News Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Pennsylvania residents of Polish descent will vote for Herbert Hoover for president regardless of past political affiliations, C. W. Sypniewski of Pittsburgh, censor of the Polish National Alliance, has informed the Republican national committee.

"Poles feel," said Mr. Sypniewski, "that they have in Hoover a sympathetic friend who worked with them for the restoration of their motherland. Mr. Hoover's intense love of peace; his sincere utterances on equality of opportunity for the individual, his deep interest in child welfare; and his pride in the constantly-rising standard of living in this country—all of these find a ready response from the Poles, whose history for so many hundreds of years was a fight against foreign domination to secure these very ends."

Hundreds of thousands of citizens of Polish descent will vote for Mr. Hoover regardless of what they think of his Republican affiliations, Mr. Sypniewski declared.

How To Tell Tree By Color Of Leaf

At this season of the year the nearby woods and forests are veritable Jacob's coats of color. But though the forest as a whole is made up of many different shades individual trees have a coloring of their own. Although the list below is not one hundred percent accurate (for coloring usually depends upon the amount of moisture the tree has received during the summer and early fall) it can be taken as a fairly consistent key to the better known trees:

Reds—Sumac, the gums, a few of the maples, Virginia creeper, poison ivy, haw, blackberry.

Brown—Chestnut, the oaks, beech, buckeye, sycamore.

Yellow—Willow, maple, walnut, poplar.

This age for some reason seems to be more interested in the cave man than in the man of the future.

Germans Plan Big Reception For Zeppelin

Elaborate Plans Formulated For Receiving Zeppelin On Return Flight

HIGH OFFICIALS WILL TAKE PART

(International News Service)

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, Oct. 30.—Surprised by the tremendous interest evidenced on every hand in the homeward flight of the Graf Zeppelin, officials of the Zeppelin works here today revised and enlarged on their previous plans for welcoming the air liner into its home port.

According to the new plans, fully 1,000 honorary guests, including many high state officials, will be on hand to greet Dr. Hugo Eckener, the members of his crew and the eastward flight passengers when the Graf comes to earth here. These will be admitted to the flying field. In addition to the honorary guests, it is expected there also will be fully 2,000 spectators, who will be charged an admittance fee of 25 cents ecah.

Two hundred extra police have been requested from the neighboring towns to maintain order.

Among the honorary guests will be the German minister of transportation, Dr. Koch, and Herr Guerard, president of the state of Wuerttemberg.

MORNING'S WORK NETS NEAR $6,000 FOR CHEST FUND

evening at 6:15 and the workers will start out early Wednesday morning.

Little difficulty was reported in securing subscriptions, and the big task seems to be that of seeing people. It is Mr. Peairs idea that if the people are seen they will give, and he has impressed upon the teams the necessity of seeing everybody.

While the workers are considerably away from the goal, yet the amount reported, $5861.55 is splendid for the few hours worked this morning. Tomorrow's reports are expected to be big ones, for from the time the meeting adjourned today at noon, until Wednesday night there will be a lot of work done by the team solicitors.

Campaign Opens.

Almost 250 division leaders, team captains and workers for the New Castle Community Chest, resolved to raise the necessary $49,000 to fill the Chest in an intensive two day campaign, this afternoon are in their respective territories where they are closing the first day of the intensive campaign, following the initial meeting which took place this morning in the east dining room of The Cathedral.

But long before 7:56, the team captains and workers knew that today was the day for the drive, for shortly after 6:30 this morning the corps of assistants at Community Chest headquarters began to call the workers by telephone so that each one would be sure to be in attendance at the breakfast this morning which officially opened the intensive drive.

Willing Workers.

It was a noisy crowd that assembled in the east dining room of The Cathedral. It was not a peppy crowd, as the word "pep" is generally used. But it was a crowd of workers who were willing to go out and batter doors facing every citizen of New Castle so that the work of the charity and social service institutions of New Castle might be continued for another year.

No set speeches were made. After the workers had finished their breakfast, Herbert Peairs, the director of the campaign, with a few words sent the workers out to their territories, filled with the spirit that wins campaigns.

Intensive Work.

"This campaign, because it is somewhat of an innovation in New Castle, will call for intensive work on the part of the Chest workers" asserted Mr. Peairs, "and I am sure that it will be one of the things which the people will remember this drive by; that is, a campaign put over in two days. It will be a successful campaign too. Of that, when I see the workers, see the same loyal people of New Castle who last year were such a big factor in making the 1927 drive a success, I am sure.

Campaign Innovation.

"It is true, the two day campaign in New Castle is an innovation but I am sure that everyone feels that it is a good innovation. It saves the time of the worker. It saves the time of the people who are solicited. All that the worker has to do is to see the people represented on his prospect cards. The cards cover the city in a way in which it was never covered before. See the people and the campaign will be successful.

"One of the greatest things accomplished by the Chest during their past year is the social service exchange which has been established at the headquarters of the Associated Charities. Here the representatives of the charity organizations in the city meet and discuss their problems and their cases. In this way it gives better service to the city; it makes for economy; it helps avoid duplications, and to the citizen it is a guarantee that he is getting value received for his money. We cannot over-emphasize its importance.

Another Change.

"Another thing which the workers should not forget is the fact that the blank notes contained in their kits are to be used for pledges of five dollars and under. This is another innovation which it is hoped will avoid shrinkages.

"Then it should be remembered, with only two exceptions there will be no solicitation in the industries of the city. The entire city of New Castle is open to the workers and I am sure that the workers will win for 'To Care is to Give.'"

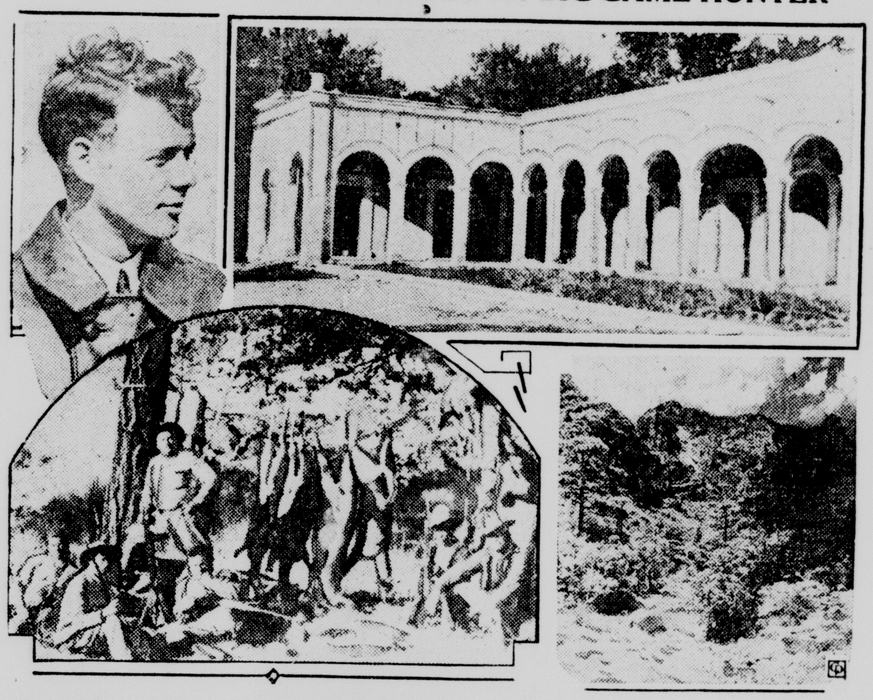

At the close of his address Mr. Peairs reminded the workers that a report meeting would take place today at 12:15 and that a report dinner will take place this evening at 6:15 in the east dining room of The Cathedral.

The campaign director looked at his watch. "It is now 8:56" he said. "Let us see how far we can boost the Chest's total before we report back here at noon."

Immediately after the meeting was adjourned the workers started for their territory and the intensive campaign for $49,000 with which to fill this year's Chest was on.

Safety first consists in assuming that the driver you are meeting hasn't any more sense than you have.

More Authority For Aeronautics Board Is Sought

State Commission Desires Jurisdiction Over All Flying Fields

(State Capital)
(From News Bureau)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 30. — Increased authority for the Aeronautics Commission of Pennsylvania will be asked of the 1929 legislature. The commission desires to have jurisdiction over private flying fields and airports as well as those operated by municipalities.

The 1927 session which created the commission limited its powers to governing airports owned by cities and boroughs. Most of the flying fields in operation in the state are under private control and not subject to regulations of the air board.

Larger appropriations also will be requested for the next biennium. At present the commission and the bureau of aeronautics in the Department of Internal Affairs is limited in its activities. The last session granted an appropriation of $10,000. With that sum the commission can engage a paid secretary and only one inspector.

Since the state regulations became effective on July 1 the aeronautics bureau has issued nearly seventy licenses for planes, one hundred and forty-five to pilots and more than 125 licenses to mechanics.

Decision probably will be reached within a short time whether the commission will ask for the power to charge a license fee on planes, pilots and mechanics. At present licenses are issued to all holders of federal permits free of charge.

Some people never become virtuous and some live long enough to outgrow their natural desires.

HIS SUBJECT.

Young Smith had a reputation to maintain; he was regarded by his fellow students as a "wit." So one morning when an unpopular master set the class to write an essay on "Manners" he sprang to his feet.

"May we write on Bad Manners?" he asked amid titters.

"Certainly" replied the master blandly. "Just write about what you know best."—Montreal Gazette.

HIS REASON.

Father: "Yes so is Charlie, or he wouldn't have written."—Dartford Chronicle.

Coolidge Does Not See Any Reason For Deficit This Year

Keeps In Touch With Budget Director Concerning Possible Deficit

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—A bright picture of business conditions and federal finances was painted at the White House today by President Coolidge who has been keeping in close touch with director of the Budget Lord over the question of a possible deficit in the treasury at the end of the current fiscal year.

All reports reaching Mr. Coolidge, it was stated, make him most optimistic about the return of sufficiently heavy revenue from taxation of this year's business to take care of all increased expenditures and eliminated the prospect of a deficit.

As the overtaking of a deficit depends upon the amount of federal receipts, and the receipts in turn depend upon business conditions, the president has been studying the latter subject carefully of late. Imports and exports, he finds, are keeping up well, indicating good business and insuring profit.

That the foundation upon which American business is laid is most firm, the president believes has been demonstrated by the fact the current presidential campaign has failed to shake it.

Congressman Swick Expends $1250 In District Campaign

By ARTHUR WIMER
(Special Washington News Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 30.—Representative J. Howard Swick has expended a total of $1,250 in his campaign for re-election to the house of representatives, according to a report filed by the congressman with the investigating committee of the house. Mr. Swick stated in his report that he has received no campaign fund contributions.

The congressman's expenditures have consisted of the payment of $250 to the Lawrence county Republican committee, $500 to the Butler county Republican committee and $500 to the Beaver county Republican committee.

According to the federal regulations of the corrupt primary act the congressman is allowed to spend a total of $2,500 on his campaign for re-election.

Believe Missing Youngsters Safe

No Inquiries To Pittsburgh Officials Leads To Belief Children Safe

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 30.—Although they have received no notification that the children have been found, attaches of the missing persons bureau here today were disposed to believe that Mary Regan, 10, and her sister, Vivian, 7, are safe with their parents.

The children are believed to live either in Sharon or Coverdale, Washington county. The Missing Persons bureau declared the police reported the parents were from Sharon and had neglected to leave an address. The bureau learned at the Pittsburgh Railways station, where the two girls disappeared, that the Regans were waiting for a street car to take them to Coverdale.

Since the first police report, no inquiries have been received of the children, leading officials of the bureau to believe that the children were found and the fact not reported.

Carbon Monoxide Gas Kills Motorists Without Warning Says State Health Secretary

"Unfortunately the accident and death rates due to the automobile will now be augmented by the seasonal foolishness of many motorists who through ignorance, carelessness or deliberate disregard of previous warning will permit carbon monoxide to lay them low," said Dr. Theodore B. Appel, state secretary of health, today.

"With the approach of cool weather, comfort in the garage seems to assume prime importance in the minds of many misguided motorists. Doors are therefore kept closed, the motor is started—and death or near-death inevitably follows.

"Already the newspapers are recounting fatalities from this entirely preventable cause. With the advent of cold weather these notices will increase and maintain a prominence until warm weather again sets in next spring.

"In the early days of automobiling there might have been some excuse for being killed from carbon monoxide poisoning, but so much has been written and spoken on the subject as to make it hard to realize that anyone sufficiently intelligent to drive a car should yet be so careless regarding this serious hazard to life.

"True, carbon monoxide has no odor, no taste and is invisible. It is therefore the one foe that literally kills without warning of any kind except that of scientific fact. But scientific fact should be sufficient to put motorists on guard.

"Every automobile owner should remember that:

"1. A closed garage and a running motor is a deadly combination.

"2. A little cold air in the garage will do no harm either to the car or its owner.

"3. Carbon monoxide respects nothing but common sense and care.

"The automobile does quite enough damage with its killings and casualties without giving it the deadly power of producing death by carbon monoxide. Therefore think of this deadly poison first and comfort second before starting up your motor in a nice warm garage. Don't reverse the process and thus permit carbon monoxide to include you among its list of victims this winter."

"Sweetest Baby in Penn."

For over fifty years, mothers, like this well-known Pennsylvania woman have been telling each other about California Fig Syrup, and leading physicians have been endorsing it. Nothing else acts so gently and harmlessly to propel the souring waste from the delicate system of babies and children, which, when allowed to remain, keeps them cross, feverish, bilious, headachy, weak, with coated tongue, bad breath, broken-out skin, no appetite or energy. Its rich, fruity goodness helps to give tone and strength to their little stomach and bowels so they continue to act normally, of their own accord. It helps to build up and strengthen them—makes them active and happy.

"I have used California Fig Syrup with my little daughter since early babyhood," says Mrs. Joseph Lavin, 268 South 57th St., West Philadelphia. "Whenever she has a cold, is the least bit constipated or doesn't seem just right, I always give her a little, and it fixes her up quick. She's the picture of health, now, and friends say she's the sweetest baby in Pennsylvania. Se has never had a serious illness, and I give California Fig Syrup full credit for it."

Protect your child from imitations of California Fig Syrup. See that the carton bears the word "California."

Former Governor Pinchot Unable To Attend Meeting

Scheduled Trip To Western Pennsylvania On Monday Is Cancelled

Because of sickness in his family ex-Governor Gifford Pinchot was forced to cancel his trip through the western part of the state and did not get to New Castle Monday afternoon as he intended.

As a result the meeting which was attended by women in the city hall, State Senator George T. Weingartner addressed the ladies on the five bond issues to be voted upon among the 14 constitutional amendments.

Senator Weingartner stated that he was opposed to all of the bond issues except the road bond issue. He explained that conditions were much changed now from the time the amendments were first proposed and that the state had a balance in the treasury of $25,000,000. He argued that it was foolish to borrow money when we had it in the bank.

The road bond issue, he said, was a little different. The carrying charges of this issue would be paid from motor and gas taxes and the current funds would not be disturbed as they would in the case of the other issues.

Many questions were asked by the women and were answered by the speaker. Chairman Robert L. Wallace and Bart Richards also spoke.

"After killing his victim the man turned the gun on me," said Granger. "But it failed to explode and he cursed and ran away."

Picking Presidents

1916: Wilson Wins With Western Votes

By CHARLES L. MULLIGAN

Written for Central Press and New Castle News

Woodrow Wilson

It was not President Wilson himself, but ex-Governor Martin H. Glynn, of New York, who originated the campaign slogan of 1916, "He kept us out of war." Glynn sprang it in his keynote speech as temporary chairman of the Democratic convention at St. Louis, which renominated Wilson and Marshall by acclamation.

The phrase caused confusion. Since the Lusitania sinking a large section of the population had been clamoring for war. On the other hand it was far from certain that the United States could keep out of it many more months. In fact, relations with Germany were broken before inaugural day.

The Republicans called Charles E. Hughes, another ex-governor of New York, from his place of repose and dignity on the supreme bench to make the race for president. At the Chicago convention, presided over by Senator Warren G. Harding, he was nominated on the third ballot. Charles W. Fairbanks, vice president under Roosevelt, was picked on the first ballot as his running mate.

It was a campaign of war time bitterness. The Wilson regime was extremely unpopular in the east. The first returns on election night showed substantial pluralities all along the line for the Republicans. Democratic papers conceded the election to Justice Hughes, and carried accounts of the jubilation in the Hughes headquarters in New York. It was not until three days later when the returns from California were in that the Wilson re-election was conceded, and then it was recalled with chagrin that Hughes had failed to placate Hiram Johnson on his trip to the coast.

The Progressives cut no figure in this election. A convention had been held at Chicago, but ex-President Roosevelt, declining its nomination, urged support of Hughes.

The electoral vote was as follows: Woodrow Wilson, New Jersey, and Thomas R. Marshall, Indiana, Democrats, 277; Charles E. Hughes, New York, and Charles W. Fairbanks, Indiana, Republicans, 254.

The popular vote: Wilson, 9,129,606; Hughes, 8,538,221; Benson, (Socialist), 585,113; Hanly, (Prohibition), 220,506.

(This is the thirty-third of a series of 35 digests of presidential campaigns. The thirty-fourth will be: "1920: A Plurality of Seven Millions.")

Your BROADWAY And Mine

By Walter Winchell

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to The New Castle News

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—They have dramatized the Sacco-Vanzetti case at the Little theater, where "Gods of Lightning," by Maxwell Anderson and Harold Hickerson, is provided. James Sinnott, representing Mayor Walker, was an interested spectator the opening night, as was a man who sat with an attentive ear and jotted down notes—for the department of justice, they were saying. But no matter, it is an incessantly intense and compelling drama that will move all who witness it, and it contains a great cast of players.

Much of it, according to some who witnessed the trial in Massachusetts, was verbatim testimony. It is all familiar stuff to those who followed the famous trial in the newspapers, but it is played so ingeniously by Charles Bickford, Sylvia Sydney, Leo Bulgakov, Horace Braham, and the others of an almost faultless cast, that it again wrings the hearts of those who sympathized with Sacco and Vanzetti during their tribulations.

From the first curtain it commands the strictest attention. The courtroom scene is long but interesting, if theatrical, and it takes on pace again in the closing scene as the clock on the wall ticks off the minutes to execution time. Here Sylvia Sydney, one of the finest of the younger actresses, comes into her own with great emotional acting that gripped the heart strings and opened the tear ducts of those who occupied the front pews. She is a mighty fine actress, this Sydney lass, not given to overplaying nor fraudulent impersonating. The Sunday dramatic sections, most likely, will devote greater space to her genius.

The action, according to the handbills, takes place in a seaboard city, but there is little attempt at makebelieve throughout the proceedings. One recognizes the judge who presided at the time, the attorneys, prosecutor, and several other incidents that rang around the world. There is much harsh discussion about the flag, the constitution, the government, and other radical comment, which probably will irritate the law. And if it comes to pass one wonders what criticism will be made of Kellogg Gary, said to be the financial backer of the production, who is listed as co-producer with Hamilton McFadden. Mr. Gary, it is said, is connected with the capitalist by the same family name, and if true, he is a courageous man.

In fewer words, the authors are carrying on for Sacco and Vanzetti, and it is a noble and spellbinding work, even if it is a commercial one. Still, it is artfully done, and a contribution to the American stage that deserves the support of intelligent playgoers who seek first-rate drama. Much of it is as good as "What Price Glory," and unless something comes along this season that will be more appealing to the Pulitzer Prize Committee, then "Gods of Lightning" should rate that group's blue ribbon.

"Deed you heard what I sad?" shouted Ginsberg, "twelf and a half dollars!" The Indian shook his head. The train whistle blew. Ginsberg raced back to his car. The old Injun raced after him and cried: "Make it feeftinn dollars. I should drop dad eef dey deedn't cust me dot much!"

ADD RACKETS

They are swapping this alleged fact in the stay-up places. A girl in the ensemble of a hit musical served as a go-between for a millionaire in town who desired meeting a dressing roommate. "He isn't at all bad," said the go-between, "and he'll give you furs, clothes, cars, jewels and everything. And if he really likes you he may back you in a show."

"Is that so?" indifferently queried the other, as she patted her cheeks with rouge, "and if I do what do you get out of it?"

"A year's rent or a trip to Bermuda," was the blase retort.

Another Local Man Is Helped Back To Health

Tells How Ten Herbs Ended Indigestion, Gas, Dizzy Spells, And Pains.

"Since taking Ten Herbs, my health has been greatly improved, and I am better able to perform my work as a railroad man," was the recent statement of Mr. Henry C. Turney, 1109 West Washington Street, New Castle.

MR. HENRY C. TURNEY

to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, where he is daily demonstrating this celebrated new compound to crowds of men and women of all ages and stations in life.

"Before using your medicine, I felt as though I were getting old before my time," Mr. Turney continued. "For a long time I had a severe pain after eating. Everything I ate seemed to disagree with me, and I kept losing weight. I had headaches continuously, and was troubled with dizziness. There were pains in my back and sides. My rest was broken by having to arise several times during the night, and I became very nervous. My complexion was very sallow.

"I knew several persons who had been greatly benefited by Ten Herbs, so I decided to try your medicine. I bought a bottle and was very much pleased with the results. Before long I was rid of that severe pain after eating and able to eat regular food without having any distress afterwards. Gas and nausea disappeared. Severe headaches and dizzy spells left me, and the pains in my back and sides were relieved. I enjoy restful sleep at night, and my complexion has cleared. I think Ten Herbs is a very fine medicine and should be more widely known."

Are you weak, nervous, depressed, or feel all run-down? Does food cause any unpleasant feeling? Are you troubled with biliousness, headaches, dizziness, constipation, pains and aches across the back, rheumatism, or neuritis? Take Ten Herbs. If it has helped thousands of others thruout this section, why not you?

The Ten Herbs Man is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine.

Credit Exchange Hears Of Many Local Tricks

You might not be able to teach an old dog new tricks, but then who wants to? Generally the old dogs knows sufficient tricks so it isn't necessary. Such is the way with the credit world and credit exchanges know all the tricks and have special ones to pull back on the culprits.

One day a certain local man said that he had his washing done for the next six months without cost. The person he told it to referred him to the New Castle Credit Exchange, an organization of the merchants and the man never did get a washing machine.

Another friendly young man gave a false address, a check for a suit of clothes, and then said he would like to get a check cashed for a little money as the banks were closed. He didn't get the check due to the lookout of merchants however and when they called for the rating at the exchange of the man the suit wasn't delivered to any address.

Another nice old lady with a sweet smile and pretty gray hair ordered a set of dishes. She returned them and said she had changed her mind and hadn't even unpacked them. The clerk knew better, as they were packed clumsily, and dried soap was on some of them. The dear old lady admitted that she had been entertaining some "swell" company and wished to put on a good front. That was checked to her good name on the exchange.

Another lady of talent ordered a very fine piano. She herself really did play. It developed through the credit exchange that she had already a piano which she evidently was not trading on the new purchase. It developed that she was entertaining an eminent musician that evening and wished to have a nice piano. Another blotch on the score card that is the merchants text book and testament.

And still another lady purchased a very, yes a very fine coat at a cost of several hundreds. It was returned the next day. She stated that she had changed her mind and besides her husband had objected. The telltale odor of perfume and a street car transfer in the pocket told a sorry tale. Another spot on the index.

Few people state Ray Hall, manager of the Credit Exchange from whence these facts come, get away with anything in the city.

At least not more than once. The slickers attempt to get away with something and the merchants report it. They seldom get away with it again.

A favorite trick by some is to call the exchange and attempt to get their own rating. This is not accomplished as the same persons call and receive such calls and voices soon get to be recognized and besides there are code numbers.

KISKI REUNION OCCURS FRIDAY

Alumni Of This District Will Make Trip To School For Event

Plans are being made by alumni of Kiski who live in the New Castle district to drive over to Saltsburg, Pa., for the reunion and alumni homecoming at the Kiski school campus on Friday, Nov. 2.

One of the biggest games on Kiski's gridiron schedule—that against the Pitt freshmen—has been moved up from Saturday to Friday as a feature of the home-coming program.

Alumni from practically every section of western Pennsylvania, eastern Ohio and parts of West Virginia will attend the home-coming. Many will drive there and there will be regular motor caravans from some of the districts where Kiski alumni are most heavily represented.

When the football teams meet before the alumni two Kiski alumni will be found battling against the Kiski team. Two of the ablest men on this year's Pitt freshman team were graduated from Kiski last year and starred on last year's team at Kiski. They are Ralph Daugherty, who is acting captain this year on the Pitt frosh team, and "Jim" Clark, former captain of the Greensburg high team and a backfield star on last year's Kiski team.

The Kiski team will be a delight to the eyes of the old grads. "Bob" Mitinger, who is coaching this year at Kiski for the first time, has practically three complete teams, all of them of almost equal strength and power. Kiski has won every game it played this year except the contest with the W. & J. freshmen, which was halted in the last quarter with the score tied to make way for the now-historic game in which the unsuspected Duquesne team overthrew the W. & J. varsity.

Information of the impressive funeral service which was conducted on October 2 for the late Jacob Riley Fox of Hollister, Cal., a brother of Mrs. Rebecca J. Martin of Park avenue, this city, has just reached this city.

Senior High Library Stands Out As Leader

Aside from students few may know it, but nevertheless the library at the Senior high school stands out as one of the finest equipped and most accommodating of a like department in almost any school in this section of the state. Recent additions have made it even more spacious, with the result that nearly 100 readers can be seated in the room at one time.

Miss Suzanne Young who is the librarian declares that over 5,000 volumes are contained on the shelves of the room which occupies a most accessible position to the students on the second floor. At one time 5,808 books were accounted for in the library, but owing to elapse of time and hard usage it has been necessary to discard a number of them.

The library with the extra room will now seat 90 students easily. It was necessary to take over the class room adjoining th eastern side of the library to accommodate the crowd that flocks to study and carry on reference work thoughout the school day. Room 211, the extra room is used primarily by students who are commencing work on their United States history essays. The room is also termed the magazine room and periodicals room for it is there that all of these are kept for the readers.

To the collection of 18 well known magazines that were on hand last year, three more have been added. "The Bookman," to be used by both faculty and students; "Journal of Commercial Education" for use by those of the commercial department and the "Journal of Home Economics" for the students of the school's new domestic science department are those that have been added.

"The boys are the magazine readers of the school" said Miss Young when asked whether boys were better readers than the girls. "When it comes to books, too, the boys seem to take a greater interest" Miss Young continued.

"However boys are given a wider reading range than the girls I believe. This probably accounts for the boys' record in the library."

The librarian asserts that it can be said that girls read no certain magazine but that boys center their time around those pertaining to mechanics and science. Boys are also stirred up with the idea of erecting model airplanes and are spending considerable time with air craft books.

Plan Booster Day Program

Special Attractions To Feature Game Here On Saturday

PARACHUTE JUMP ONE OF ATTRACTIONS

In the football season of 1927, the outstanding showmanship feature was the Booster Day game in which the Old Timers played a burlesque period against the New Castle high school regulars. It was all in fun and was a part of the Booster Day program.

This year the Booster Day will be held on Saturday, November 3, which is next Saturday and the committee in charge promises some more features that will send the fans home talking to themselves. An airplane flight, a parachute jump, some formal exercises on the field, a flag raising and some other features are promised that will mark the day in red letters.

Band Gets Some

One of the reasons this year for a Booster Day game is that the Senior high school band needs uniforms. Now uniforms cost money, considerable money, and part of the proceeds of the Booster Day game will apply on the cost of the new uniforms which have been ordered.

Because the Class of 1923 was the first class to contribute money towards the Franklin Stadium, a formal exercise will be held on the field commemorating the event, with Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent, Charles H. Young, president of the school board and representatives of the Class of 1923 participating.

D. Roy Bradford, president of the New Castle Aircraft, Inc., has promised a plane for the day and a parachute jumper will make a jump from the air onto Franklin Field.

The Boy Scouts will conduct a flag raising, and South Hills of Pittsburgh will furnish the opposition for the New Castle high school football team.

Everything considered the game and the day promises to be a live wire affair and the stands at the field should be packed to the last seat.

Tickets for the day are being sold now.

Appeal Is Taken From Assessment

An appeal from the assessment of property of C. W. Graham of Plainsgrove township is being heard this afternoon by the county commissioners. Mr. Kennedy owns 160 acres of land on the improved highway at Elliott's mills, which is assessed at $5,000 for the land. Some time ago the commissioners paid a claim to Graham for a change in the highway, and afterwards his assessment was raised on account of the benefit of the improved highway. Mr. Graham thinks it is too high.

THEN ALL-BRAN SAVED HIM FROM CONSTIPATION

A message for people who use laxatives

Mr. Skiles wrote us a voluntary testimonial after Kellogg's ALL-BRAN had saved him from dreadful constipation. Read his tribute:

July 12, 1927

"For years I have been so constipated. After trying every kind of drug possible, I could only get temporary relief. I became discouraged and gave up hopes, when a friend told me to use Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. I had read so many testimonials I had no faith. I was of the opinion testimonials were put out by friends. I will not only give you the privilege to use my name, but I will go on the witness stand and testify to my statement. I cannot express words great enough to meet with Kellogg's food." —ARTHUR SKILES, 325 N. Kedzie Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

If constipation is preying upon your health, check it before too late. If you are using habit-forming laxatives, stop it before this harmful practice fastens its grip too tight.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to relieve constipation. Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal. Doctors recommend ALL-BRAN. A 100% bran cereal—delicious with milk or cream—fruits or honey added. Use in cooking too. Sold by all grocers. Served everywhere. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Shriners Invade Uniontown Today For Gala Events

Fully 50,000 Persons Take Part In Big Doings; Parade Will Be Feature

(International News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Oct. 30—Five thousand Shriners participated today in the colorful and picturesque spectacle of the 1928 trek to Mecca of the Western Pennsylvania members of the Order of the Shrine.

Fully 50,000 persons thronged the streets and enlivened the assemblages in the various fraternal functions of the day, with the high point of the pilgrimage coming to a climax with a huge and colorful parade this afternoon.

A special train brought Shriners from Pittsburgh here, while the numbers were augmented by other trainloads and auto caravans from every section of Western Pennsylvania.

The only business session for the day was scheduled in State Theater here this afternoon, where balloting will be made on petitions. This will be followed by formations for the parade, with the point of honor in the march occupied by Reginald A. Daniell, illustrious potentate of Syria Temple and the official Divan.

The high spot of tonight's activities is the ceremonial where the degree of "Noble of the Mystic Shrine" will be conferred.

Music, vaudeville and other entertainment kept the fun moving at high pitch throughout the day, continuing until late tonight, when the Shriners will break camp for the return pilgrimage to their homes.

Parade Of Mummers Leaves P. & L. E. Freight Station At 7:30

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 30—According to the custom of previous years Ellwood City will fittingly celebrate all Hallowe'en eve Wednesday evening with a long mummers parade, floats, much noise, etc.

F. Kegel, W. R. Thompson and Harry Harris in another group. The two groups were appointed to facilitate speed in the judging of the many costumes, to avoid if possible a repetition of last year's plight when the children stood patiently around the P. and L. E. freight station in the freezing cold waiting to see if they got a prize, while the judges wrangled and interwrangled among themselves trying to decide among the unique costumes offered.

The parade will form at the P. and L. E. freight station and will be ready to move at 7:30 o'clock. The line of march is as follows: From station to Lawrence, from Lawrence to Fifth street, from Fifth street to Spring avenue, from Spring avenue to Fourth street back to Fifth street, from Fifth street back to Lawrence avenue and to the freight station again for the awarding of the prizes.

Credit for the success of the pageant is due Miss Virginia Kerr of the public speaking department of Geneva college.

Naval Department Denies Accusation By German Paper

Navy In Constant Touch With Zeppelin To Aid In Case Of Distress

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—The navy is not using radio compass stations along the Atlantic coast to intercept messages and chart the course of the Graf Zeppelin on its return voyage to Germany, the naval communications office declared today.

However, by arrangement with Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the dirigible, the naval radio station at Lakehurst is standing by all the time to receive possible SOS calls from the Zeppelin in event aid is needed. The station also is transmitting weather reports to the Graf.

Navy officers declared the newspaper Tempox's report probably arose from the fact that during the last stages of the Zeppelin's voyage to America radio compass stations, by intercepting messages, were able constantly to know exactly the Zeppelin's position. This fact was revealed at the time and was done as a precautionary measure, it was said.

Mrs. Thomas said she first recognized Beitzel from a newspaper photograph.

Before leaving Philadelphia for Los Angeles, where he posed as the wife of Miss Maurer, Beitzel had been married to Mrs. Jean Mellinger Beitzel, of Lancaster, Pa.

Want Examination Of Autos Regularly Made Compulsory

Project Likely To Come Before Next Session Of State Legislature

(From News Bureau (State Capital)

HARRISBURG, Oct 30.—Compulsory examinations of automobiles at stated periods is desired by the State Highway department it became known today. The department it is understood, plans to ask the next legislature to insert that provision in the motor code.

Last spring during its safety campaign the department made an effort to have all automobiles inspected for mechanical defects. All cars found to be in good working order were given a sticker to be placed on the windshield. The campaign was carried on in the intensive manner. Members of the highway patrol were stationed along the roads urging autoists to have their cars inspected.

A number of motorists refused to place the stickers on their windshields because they claimed the motor code prohibited non-transparent objects on the windshields. The department is planning to ask the legislature to force compulsory periodical examinations of machines.

Another matter of interest to operators of motor vehicles that may be considered by the legislature is the lifting of the speed limit on the open highway. At present the limit is 35 miles an hour and below that in built up sections. The only restrictions being considered is making the driver liable for reckless operation if going more than 40 miles an hour and involved in an accident. The lifting of the speed limit would not apply to buses being operated on the highways of the state.

Local Minister Talks To Lions

Pastor Of Epworth M. E. Church Tells Of Trip Abroad

Rev. Samuel L. Maxwell, pastor of the Epworth Methodist Episcopal church of this city, delivered the regular noon address at the weekly meeting of the New Castle Lion's club, held at the Elks' club today. The local minister gave an enjoyable resume of his recent trip to England, France, Belgium, the Holy Land and other places of interest abroad.

Maxwell cited the good and bad points of the most important countries, declaring among other things that Brussells in the land of Belgium, is to him the most beautiful city in all the world, and that the French people seem to be the most joyless and beatless of all the inhabitants of Europe. He praised Mussolini for his progressive strides in Italy and other lands controlled by him, comparing their wholesome industries with the wine establishments which constitute the main industries of Frances.

"The land of Palestine faces a terrible re-forestation problem," said the minister. "America should profit by the errors committed there." After picturing the degrading conditions of certain sections of the city of London, Maxwell concluded by saying that it was only "home again and home again" that occupied his mind as he stood at Southampton awaiting the departure of the liner that was to carry him home." He was glad to return," he finished.

Emergency Board Submits Plans To Avert Rail Tieup

Two Alternative Proposals Given President Coolidge After Survey

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Alternative proposals for the settlement of the wage dispute between 55 western railroads and 70,000 trainmen and conductors, were submitted to President Coolidge in the report of the emergency board headed by James R. Garfield of Cleveland, which was made public today.

The board suggested either:

1—A 6½ per cent increase in wages without change of company rules, or

2—A 7½ per cent increase and the elimination of the "double header" and tonnage limitation rules.

The board further proposed that the so-called Washington agreement be adopted where under company rules could be placed in arbitration on individual carriers in special cases where the carriers claimed such rules producted burdensome or objectionable conditions. It was proposed that whatever settlement was accepted should be made effective May 1, 1929.

The question of the "double header" and other rules was the point of controversy upon which the original negotiations hung. The roads had agreed to a wage increase approximating that granted on southern and eastern roads, but had demanded discontinuance of certain service rules.

It was made clear in the board's report that acceptance of either of the alternatives should include the continuation of existing differentials for mountain and other special service, and the addition of the requested increase to baggage men, for mail, express and dynamo service.

The proposals should be submitted to the employes for their election, and the carriers should abide by such election, the board suggested.

One of my "secrets" is mere cleanliness. The fascinating glow comes from the regular use of my liquid Wave and Sheen.

I shampoo my hair once a week under ordinary circumstances. After it dries I comb it and apply Wave and Sheen. Then I place my combs in the direction I wish the waves. (My hair is not curly.)

Community Night To Be Held Friday At Mount Jackson

Annual Community Night At Mt. Jackson School; Other School News

Friday night, November 2, there will be a community open house night in the auditorium of the Mt. Jackson high school at 8 o'clock. This community night program and inspection of the building is an annual affair in the school.

There will be a special motion picture shown as a part of the program for the evening, according to the announcement made by school officials.

The remainder of the program, due to the proximity of election, will be of a patriotic nature.

There will be no basketball practice for either boys' or girls' teams until December 1, states Francis McDowell, varsity basketball coach.

One meeting of the boys' squad was held this year to determine the number of players and ascertain equipment needs but thus far no practices have taken place.

It is expected that practice will start immediately following Thanksgiving recess as the county league series of basketball games starts in December.

Thirty four pupils were present at the eighth grade party which took place Friday evening in the home of P. J. Keane of Mt. Jackson.

Games of various sorts furnished the entertainment for the evening. Prizes were awarded for the different types of Hallowe'en costumes.

Clarence Lipp won the prize for being the best dressed, while John Mrozek was awarded the prize for the most foolish costume.

The house was decorated with appropriate autumn colors. A Hallowe'en menu lunch was served at a later hour.

One hundred persons attended the Hallowe'en masquerade party of the Mt. Jackson high school which was sponsored by the senior class on Friday evening. The party took place in the auditorium of the High school.

Famous Recipe For Stopping a Severe Cough

You'll be pleasantly surprised when you make up this simple home mixture and try it for a distressing cough or chest cold. It takes but a moment to mix and costs little, but it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. Pour this into a pint bottle; then fill it with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. The full pint thus made costs no more than a small bottle of ready-made medicine, yet it is much more effective. It is pure, keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

This simple remedy has a remarkable three-fold action. It goes right to the seat of trouble, soothes away the inflammation, and loosens the germ-laden phlegm. At the same time, it is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly upon the bronchial tubes and thus helps inwardly to throw off the whole trouble with surprising ease.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Worker Aroused By Phone Calls

Over 200 Chest Workers Rudely Awakened; All Appear For Breakfast

The phone rang.

Rubbing sleep from each one of his eyes, yawning as he scratched his head, each Community Chest worker this morning wondered what it was all about; wondered who was trying to get him up at this heathenish hour. For it was seven o'clock.

Still the phone persisted in ringing. Grabbing his slippers in one hand and his bathrobe in the other, the Community Chest worker mouthed a few maledictions on telephones in general and hurried downstairs.

"Hello", he said grouchily. "What the—"

"This is Community Chest headquarters," a sweet voice interrupted him. "We just wanted to make sure that you would attend the workers' breakfast this morning at 7:56 in the Cathedral."

"Yeh?" countered the Chest worker. "Well, I'll be there." Then he banged up the receiver and started to dress. Soon he appeared at The Cathedral, his grouch gone, and ready to work.

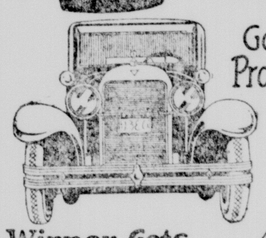

"Well," said one of the workers to another. "You see, it's not so bad for me. Getting up at seven o'clock gave me two more hours to sleep."

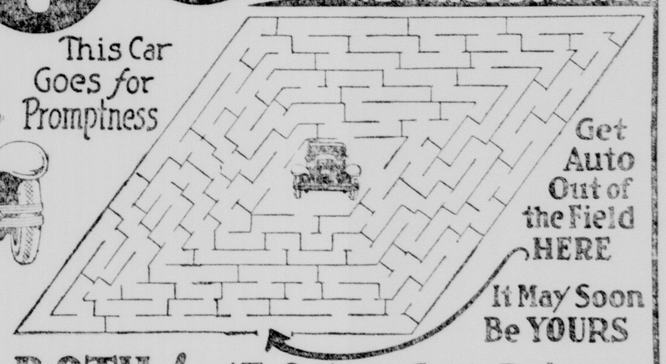

Two hundred and fifty calls were made by the four girls comprising the office force of the Chest, and almost 250 workers answered, showing an average well above 95 per cent attendance at the first meeting of the intensive Chest drive.

The Philippines As An American Colony
Aguinaldo Establishes a Revolutionary Government

AFTER DEWEY'S VICTORY AT MANILA BAY (MAY 1, 1898), THE U. S. DISPATCH BOAT "McCULLOCH" WAS SENT TO HONGKONG TO FORWARD THE GLORIOUS NEWS BY CABLE TO THE UNITED STATES. ON HER RETURN TO MANILA BAY THE "McCULLOCH" BROUGHT EMILIO AGUINALDO, FILIPINO INSURGENT LEADER, WHO SAW IN THE WAR BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND SPAIN A CHANCE TO FREE HIS PEOPLE. LANDING AT CAVITE, AGUINALDO GATHERED HIS FOLLOWERS AND FORMED A GOVERNMENT WITH HIMSELF AS DICTATOR (JUNE 18).

JUNE 23RD, AGUINALDO BY DECREE CHANGED THE TITLE OF THE DE FACTO GOVERNMENT FROM DICTATORIAL TO REVOLUTIONARY, AND BECAME ITS PRESIDENT. ADMIRAL DEWEY RECEIVED AGUINALDO AS AN ALLY, AND PERMITTED HIM TO ARM THE FILIPINO INSURGENTS WITH SURPLUS WEAPONS AND MUNITIONS CAPTURED FROM THE SPANIARDS AT CAVITE.

AGUINALDO AT ONCE BEGAN A VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN AGAINST THE SPANIARDS, DRIVING THEM BACK INTO MANILA PROVINCE, ENVELOPING THE CAPITAL ITSELF AND SENDING MILITARY EXPEDITIONS TO ATTACK SPANISH POSTS ON NEIGHBORING ISLANDS.

ON AUGUST 6, 1899, THE FILIPINO LEADER ISSUED AN ADDRESS TO FOREIGN POWERS, ANNOUNCING THAT THE REVOLUTIONARY GOVERNMENT WAS IN CONTROL OF FIFTEEN PROVINCES, AND REQUESTED OFFICIAL RECOGNITION OF THE BELLIGERENCY AND INDEPENDENCE OF THE FILIPINOS.

DAVIES AND McCOY BATTLE TO DRAW

Judges Disagree, Referee Decides

McCoy Sends Wee Willie To His Haunches In Tenth Round

EACH TAKES THREE OF FURIOUS ROUNDS

By ED FRITZ.

Wee Willie Davies, Charleroi, 21, who has become a ring idol here met another fistic marvel last night at Jolly Bowl in one Johnny McCoy, partially bald and old enough, so we were informed to have a son in junior high school. After ten rounds of classy, spectacular and vicious battling the bout was called a draw, which was liberalism with a Davies tinge.

Frank (Bull) Brown of Pittsburgh, and McLaughlin of McKeesport, were sent here to judge and Red Robinson performed as referee. The judges split, as Brown gave the fight to Davies, McLaughlin voted for a draw and when this situation cropped to the fore, Robinson's vote of a draw carried. They each took as many rounds but McCoy scored the most damage.

According to our "check-book" the rounds were recorded as follows: First, Davies; second, McCoy; third even; fourth, McCoy; fifth, McCoy; Sixth, Davies; seventh, Davies; eighth, even; ninth, even and tenth even. In the first of the tenth Davies had a big wide margin and the punch that sent him to his haunches, only to find him bobbing up against the ropes and back fighting, did not need a count.

In the first round while skimmering past McCoy, Davies was nailed with a right. He slipped and grabbed McCoy after which he fought hard to head and body as Johnny depended on his right. The second found Johnny rushing Davies to the ropes and when Willie tangled with the hemp Mac pulled him off. McCoy half turned Wee Willie around with a right to the chin that stagered Davies.

Remove Davies Shoes.

The third was even, McCoy took the fourth and in the fifth McCoy stung Willie with right uppercuts. After furious standing toe to toe McCoy whipped a left cross to the head and he outfought Davies. It was the first time since Willie came to the city that he looked to be on the losing end. He slipped continually and his shoes were removed between the rounds.

He held his feet better in the sixth as the floor was nothing but a "sea of glass" from rosin and he opened up with a hard right to McCoy's jaw. McCoy retaliated and they exchanged rights and lefts. Willie rushed, jabbed McCoy off balance then sent Mac staggering to the ropes from a right to the jaw and it was Davies biggest round so far. He drew his first big ovation.

Willie shot from his corner in the seventh and in an exchange worsted McCoy, ducking away from an onslaught on the ropes. Davies jabbed, hooked when in close and stood up well as they exchanged right crosses to the jaw. Davies took this round but when the eighth opened McCoy shot a left hook and Davies a right cross.

Davies made McCoy miss then ripped a right uppercut to the chin. As Davies rushed, McCoy caught him with a right to the chin. They milled at close range, Davies getting the best of the duel. After they broke from the clinch Willie jabbed, but McCoy sent him off balance with a right that landed on the back of his neck and as he went by his right hand touched the floor. The blow was the last of the round.

Hurricanic Fighting.

The ninth was a hurricane of action. Davies jabbed. McCoy sent a right uppercut to the jaw. Davies jabbed his left. Willie ripped a left hook to the jaw in close, then crossed his left. McCoy met him with a right to the head as he came in. McCoy delivered a right to the head but Davies gave him two to the same place in return. McCoy fought in close and had the best of the infighting. He jabbed to the head. The round was even.

The last round opened with Davies shooting a left to the face. McCoy missed a right lead. Davies jabbed. Willie sent three right jolts to the chin at close quarters. McCoy put a right to the body. They exchanged lefts to the head. Willie shot a straight left to the chin and followed it up with a right to the head. McCoy caught Davies with a right that sent him to his haunches. He was off balance as he got the punch. He went to his haunches, bobbed up quickly, backed into the ropes, came out fighting with guard held high. McCoy slipped to the floor. Davies stepped back to let him get up. Davies sent a right to the jaw. They were fighting head and head, body to body when the round ended. The decision was a draw.

Johnny Capella, McKeesport, 136, and Davy Davies, Charleroi, 132½, went on as the eye opener of the "Evening's Even'" scheduled for four rounds at Jolly Bowl. Capella was on the receiving end, caught almost everything Davy had in the last two rounds. The decision went to Davies.

Carter Passes Out.

Elmo The Mighty and Steve Carter entered for the next four rounder amid a bedlam of cheers for Elmo. Carter hails from Charleroi. He weighed 170. Elmo tipped the beam at 176½. Elmo took his instructions with a serious look on his face. Carter went down for 3 from a blow to the stomach but on the next trip to the floor he was counted out. Elmo leaped over the ropes having earned his week's salary in two minutes.

Al St. John of Butler, 131½, and Frankie Sunday, Akron, 128½, a new face and a frequent visitor to Jolly Bowl, respectively entered for the first six round whirl of blows. Al came in with white tights first and had to change them. Next time he went for a protective cup and finally he was all dressed up for the drama in punch.

Somehow the kid, Al St. John, looks sort of amateurish as he fiddles in his corner and he started off swinging wildly, confirming our suspicions.

Floors St. John.

Sunday floored St. John for a count of eight a few seconds before the first round ended. St. John fought back gamely in the second but Sunday easily won the round. Al kept rushing, swinging but ran into hard socks to chin and stomach in the third. St. John courageously carried on in the fourth. Sunday whaled his stomach. Frankie tried to get a shot at Al's jaw but couldn't though St. John missed a dozen left swings in the fifth. Sunday whaled St. John in the sixth and won the fight but he didn't outgame the Butler kid.

Belmont Beats Peck.

Jimmie Belmont, Braddock, 145½, and George Peck, Pittsburgh, 147½, went on in the six round semi-final. Peck sent Belmont down with a left when he bounced off the ropes but when he tried it a second time got nailed on the chin with a left and was driven to retreat. Belmont got to the head in the second and lashed out with right and left and though George counted several times Belmont took the round. Jimmie won the third session. He took advantage of everything and crowded Peck.

Draws Blood.

George used his feet and boxed better in the fourth round but Belmont was the master. Blood flowed from Peck's nose in the fifth round when he essayed to box at long range. He rubbed his bleeding nose on Belmont's shoulder. Jimmy sent a left that staggered Peck to the ropes. He rushed and George tied him up. Jimmie drove him to the ropes, lashed him to the other side and blood spattered over ringside spectators. Belmont complained that he injured his right hand. The decision went to Belmont.

South Hills To Play Locals On Franklin Field

Strong Pittsburgh Team To Battle New Castle Saturday Afternoon

LOCALS RESUME TRAINING TODAY

By "BUGS" WALTHER

New Castle high school football team has another hard grid engagement to fill here on this coming Saturday. The South Hills high team of Pittsburgh will be the attraction at Franklin high field.

The local warriors following their hard tussle at Washington on last Saturday were given a rest on Monday. Today Coach Philip H. Bridenbaugh intends to resume intensive training.

South Hills high will bring a fast team to this city. The Hills team this season is ranked among the best in the city league at Pittsburgh and they are pointing for a good game with the Lawrence county eleven.

Harper Recovers.

The New Castle team is none the worse for their terrific battle with the strong Washington high team. The red and black team will be in good condition for the South Hills game. Several of the boys were somewhat jarred up in the 0-0 deadlock but they have fully recovered. "Tommy" Harper, the local battering ram, was hurt the worst, but Harper never has enough of football and hard knocks and will be found at the fullback post on Saturday.

It is understood that South Hills will bring a special train to New Castle for the grid contest.

The game this week is to be known as Booster Day and a part of the proceeds of the game will go towards purchasing uniforms for the band. A committee has already started to work on the program for Saturday. A number of interesting features have been planned.

Scouts Will Aid In Mummers Parade

Boys Will Meet Wednesday Evening At 7 O'clock At Legion Home

Boy Scouts who have been selected by their respective troops to assist in the handling of the crowds Wednesday night at the mummers parade will meet at seven o'clock that evening at the American Legion Home, states J. Lee Calahan, chief Scout executive.

The Scouts will carry torches and flags in the procession and a squadron will assist police in keeping the crowds back on the curb that the parade may pass.

Dempsey May Fight Again To Keep Wolf From His Residence

Former Heavyweight Champion Says He May Be Forced To Fight Again

Sounds Foolish To Average Man, But Dempsey Spends Lots Of Money Is Known

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service
(Copyright 1928 International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—"Maybe I'll have to fight again!"

The truth at last broke through the studied evasion of months today and Jack Dempsey, his guard down, was telling for the first time the real story of a losing battle against the most insidious of all temptations—the utterly human urger to "try, try again."

"Maybe I'll have to fight again!"

There was the story of a man's life in those six words, uttered simply, almost wistfully. Men speak like that in the presence of truth. No posturing, no thought for effect. Not the bland patter of a carefully rehearsed speech. The writer simply happened to be present while Jack Dempsey was talking to himself. He was conceding the melancholy fact that the words he had mouthed these many months might prove to be only so much sparking banter, after all.

May Fight Again.

Maybe he will have to fight again and the answer rests with the age-old prompter of all humankind: money.

He could have spoken of honor, of the "public's demand," of any of the senseless reasons men advance for doing something they want to do. Instead, he spoke of money and one knew that sincerity was speaking. The matter came up very naturally.

The writer had started the inevitable inquiry and Dempsey had countered with the inevitable rejoinder, something that sounded like "the game's too tough for an old guy like me." I didn't believe he meant anything of the kind and said so, with elaborations concerning the type of men he would be asked to beat. And so, with the unconscious effort all of us make at self-justification, he spoke unguardedly, perhaps too quickly.

"Oh, I'm not worried about those guys. What I'm thinking about is that it costs me a lot of money to live. Maybe I'll have to fight again."

Maybe his guard will be up again tomorrow and he will be singing the old refrain of the man who says he has fought his last fight. Let him say it. The writer knows now that Dempsey himself is far from sure he believes his own words. He may not want to fight again. He may have to.

In Need Of Money.

And, if he does have to, he at least will have the moral courage of a man who still thinks he can. It is Dempsey's personal opinion that he could make a better fight the next time out than the night he had Tunney plucking wildflowers in the seventh round at Chicago. He said so, by inference, in answering a hypothetical question as to what manner of puncher might be the man who hit another seven times on the chin, knocked him down and couldn't keep him there.

"That's easy," said he. "I was no fighter that night. I had left all my fight in the training camp. I made the mistake of training for it as I did for the Willard fight at Toledo, forgetting all the time that I was eight years older. If I ever had the same chance, I wouldn't do that again. In fact, if I ever came back, I would handle myself in training. I know better than anybody else just what I need to be right."

Meanwhile, he is marking time while seeking the answer to this very pertinent question:

"Have I made all the money I'm due to make, outside the ring?"

Undoubtedly, the failure of his fight show has given him something to think about in this connection. But the final returns are still out. One venture has failed, another may succeed.

I understand Dempsey has signed contracts for the talking pictures, involving a matter of $750,00, a stake big enough for any man's life time. He is said to have a guarantee of $150,000 for the first picture but, to get any part of the remainder, that first picture must be something of a financial wow.

If it isn't, Dempsey may turn to the one thing that will get him the reward he wants—fighting. If it is, the crisis will have passed. Likewise Jack Dempsey—from public life.

Smallness Is Aid To Sturdy Halfback

Walt Opekum Of Penn, Proves To Be Brilliant Open Field Runner

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30.—Little Walt Opekun, five feet and five inches tall and as sturdy as an oak, is making a name for himself as the best receiver of forward passes on the University of Pennsylvania's brilliant football team.

Walt, a halfback, hails from the up-state coal regions near Scranton and is the smallest man on the squad.

Again Swarthmore, Walt snatched pass after pass out of the air, duplicating his feats against Ursinus and Franklin and Marshall on previous Saturdays. In addition, the little coal-cracker shook himself free of tacklers and again scampered away for long runs.

Opponents of the Red and Blue say Opekun is one of the hardest running backs on the squad and one of the most difficult men to bring down. He is chunky and powerful and his legs move like pistons. He has a fine chance of pace and is speedy afoot. Due to his shortness, opponents say, tacklers find it hard to encircle their arms around his limbs.

"He runs too close to the ground," complained one opponent. And that about tells the story.

Walt is a first-string substitute this year. He would have made the varsity this year and many excellent men are sitting on the bench.

New Castle Will Play Washington In 1929 And 1930

Washington High Team To Fill Thanksgiving Day Date Here Next Year

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner of New Castle Senior High school announced today that negotiations with the Washington High officials has resulted in a new two-year agreement between the two schools for football activity.

"Washington High will be the Thanksgiving Day attraction at New Castle in 1929," said Gardner. New Castle will fill one of the grid dates on the Washington High 1930 program, in return.

The Washington High team played here last Thanksgiving and lost 39 to 6. This year the New Castle team went to Washington and the game resulted in a 0-0 deadlock.

Sportsmanship has held a high place in the relations with Washington High and the fans of both towns will no doubt welcome the announcement that the teams are to continue competition on the football field.

Coach "Hank" Day of Washington was warm in his praise of the New Castle team, and Coach Bridenbaugh had plenty of nice tributes for the Washington team. The game played last Saturday was one of the cleanest of the year.

All are deformed in some measure. Some have imperfect bodies, and some are crippled above the ears.

Shades Of Kaer And Drury—Watch This Williams!

Howard Jones, maker of All-Americans, believes he has another national football celebrity in the person of Don Williams, flashy quarterback of the Southern California football squad.

Williams' open field running and his powerful line smashing have the Pacific coast fans all atwitter. He is even being hailed as the successor of such gridiron greats as Morley Drury and Morton "Devil May" Kaer.

Kaer made the All-American in 1926 and his passing from the Trojans caused fans great grief. But they did not reckon with the star-making abilities of Jones.

Kaer can never be replaced—that was the moan on the Pacific coast. But up sprang Morley Drury last fall, fresh with a brand of quarterbacking that landed him a berth on the All-American and an equal pedestal of fame with Kaer.

And now comes Don Williams skirting ends and ripping through lines as though they were so much paper.

Williams seems determined to make coast grid followers forget the wonderful deeds of his two predecessors, and he seems to be in a fair way of succeeding.

Williams is by far and away the best passer, plunger, open field runner and punter the Trojans have. And if he is getting away in good enough shape to suit Jones in all those things he must be good

MEN WHO SMOKE AND GUARD THEIR HEALTH, SMOKE CIGARS

100% of the Doctors interviewed on the Staff of St. Luke's Hospital, New York — are Cigar Smokers

La Palina is America's Largest Selling High Grade Cigar [OVER A MILLION A DAY] its outstanding popularity is the best proof of its unusual quality

Of the doctors interviewed on the staff of this leading hospital—all smoke cigars.

Cigar smoking cannot be a mere nervous habit. In the slow, leisured smoking of the cigar is the taste, the comfort and the solace that are tobacco's greatest gifts to man. One cigar is not lighted from the end of another, nervously and hurriedly. Cigar smokers are keen and alert after hours of unflagging concentration. And the fine, full flavor of the cigar can be enjoyed without inhalation.

To quote a prominent New York specialist: "The principal reason for throat troubles amongst smokers is the burning, drying effect of hot tobacco smoke upon the tender tissues of the throat. Cigar smoke is cool, since the tobacco burns slowly and is further cooled and filtered as it is drawn through the body of the cigar."

Make this test for a week—smoke cigars exclusively and you will find yourself feeling better, with no cough or throat irritation, improved nerves, increased vitality and less of that tired feeling. To really test cigars, with justice to yourself and to cigars, we suggest the test be made with La Palinas.

College Football Teams Go For Long Periods Without Any Victories

In these days of emphasis on football, shed a tear for the small college with too few men to make up a strong team. Small colleges, despite their incapacity in this direction, nevertheless feel obliged for various reasons to put the best teams possible on the field, but with results that are almost invariably unfavorable and often disastrous from the point of view of games won.

Hiram College, one of several Ohio institutions which falls in this class, is this week celebrating its first football victory in five years. Until Otterbein was defeated Saturday by an 8-7 score, Hiram football teams had suffered an unbroken succession of defeats since early in the season of 1923. Freshmen entering the college that fall have graduated. Those who played football went through their entire three years of participation without feeling the thrill of victory on the field.

Over in New York the students of Alfred College are similarly staging a football celebration this week. For the first time in three years their football team scored a touchdown Friday and also won their first game in that period.

Ursula College, one of New Jersey's little institutions, had been tied with Alfred for lack of football scoring for three years and is seeking to locate the latter's last week's foe. It was Edinboro College, of which there is no record in the World Almanac or the directory of the Bureau of Education.

It should somehow be possible for institutions of this kind to have a league or conference of their own. Taking a mauling every Satuday from some larger institution must be bad on the morale of team and student body alike.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

When Mickey Cochrane was voted the most valuable American League player for 1928 recently, it proved again that "baseball is honest," and all that sort of thing; because the pepper-box catcher of the A's did not play on a winning team, did not bat .300, nor did he hit a lot of home runs, but the August (or rather October) commission that made the award chose him over Heinie Manush, Joe Judge, Tony Lazzeri, Willie Kamm, Goose Goslin, and other celebrities.

Of course, Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig were not eligible, having won the trophy and the "One Grand" that goes with it before. Gordon S. Cochrane has been given a lot of credit by Connie Mack for "Lefty" Grove's fine pitching this year. His play has always been of such a high standard that, in 1926, only his second major league season, he received several votes as the most valuable player to his team, and placed fourth in the contest in 1927.

"Mickey" starred as a football and baseball player with Boston University, and, after one minor league season (with Portland of the Pacific Coast League in 1924), came to the Athletics to displace Cy Perkins as their regular catcher. Cochrane's batting and base-running were so good that he was not relegated to the tail end of the batting order, but usually hit in third position.

As you can see from the drawing, "Little catchers have big ears," as well as "little pitchers"—and Mickey's ears must be burning now with all the complimentary things that are being said about him.

The poets who wrote about "the grazing herd" and "the stag at eve had drunk his fill" must have had in mind the Minnesota-Chicago football game. "The Thundering Herd more than grazed me," said Coach Alonzo Stagg, who, after thirty-seven seasons on the Midway, has undoubtedly had his fill of football.

Leading Writers Swing To Hoover

Republican Party Candidate Is "Safe" Says Former Democrat

By ARTHUR WIMER,
(Special Washington News Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 30.—Within the past ten days, several of the leading writers and publicists of the country located in Philadelphia, have made strong endorsements of Herbert Hoover's candidacy for the presidency, according to an announcement by the Republican National committee.

Heading the list is Edward W. Bok, who says, "I consider no man in America today more competent to be president of the United States than Herbert Hoover."

Joseph C. Lincold, author of many stories dealing with the life of the people of Cape Cod, asserts: "How any unprejudiced, straight, thinking, unselfish, American citizen can forego the opportunity to vote for a man of Herbert Hoover's character, executive ability, and work in the service of mankind is beyond my comprehension."

Harrison S. Morris, poet and critic, says: "I have voted for the four previous democratic candidates for president, but I am now going to vote for Hoover because he is safe. His opponent is not."

George Gibbs, novelist, illustrator and painter, volunteers: "The Happy Warrior is very unhappy in a discussion of great national issues. If I ever had a doubt, his campaigning has eliminated it."

UNUSUAL WORK IN SCHOOL ROOM

Class Room In Oak Street School Is Decorated By Teacher

An unusual piece of interior decoration has just been accomplished by Miss Carlotta M. Kerns in her classroom at the Oak street school, at which institution she has taught for a period of four years. Miss Kerns' work is unusual in that it is but seldom one hears of such work being done.

There are 48 seats in Miss Kerns' room for pupils of the first and second grades. As the children assemble there to be taught art, Miss Kerns believes that the best and most artistic environment should be provided for them. It was for this reason that the room was beautified.

Each seat in her room was painted in a jade green color and trimmed in orange and violet. The radiators have been decorated and are of gilt. The teacher's desk, chairs, the organ, vases and flower pots are colored in tones that match. They are of a stencil design.

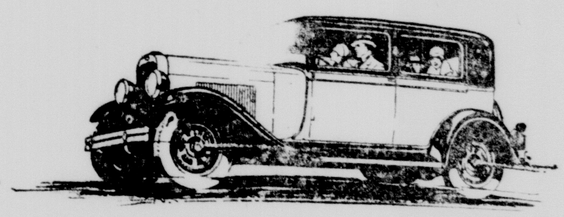

The painting was done entirely by Miss Kerns herself. Most of the painting was done after school and sometimes work continued until late in the evenings. Considerable attention has been attracted to it and numerous teachers have visited the building to see Miss Kerns' striking handiwork.

Miss Kerns resides at 801 Chestnut street.

STOLEN SCALES FOUND BY POLICE

Penny in the slot scales stolen from the lobby of the Dome Theatre recently, were found this morning by Detective John Young and Officer Lynch in front of the George Washington Junior high school. It was intact, even to the pennies that it contained, when taken. The officers loaded the scales, which weighed approximately five hundred pounds on the police car and returned it to the owner. From the fact that no effort was made to get the money in the machine, it is assumed that its removal was the work of Hallowe'en celebrators and not that of thieves. Evidently the persons responsible for its removal were numerous or else they'd had a truck in which to move it.

Penn State Asks For Bond Votes

Students Write To Friends, Asking Them To Vote For Issue

Penn State students are eager to see proposed amendment to the state constitution number two pass at the general election of November 6. In fact, so anxious are they to see it pass that they are now writing to all their friends, urging them to vote for it.

Following is the message received this morning from Francis Boak of New Castle:

"Dear sir:

"This is just to remind you of Amendment Number Two on November 6. Please do all that you can to help us at Penn State which will be greatly appreciated by all Penn State students. With many thanks for your support,

"FRANCIS BOAK."

SAMPSON STREET COOP IS ROBBED

George Zink, 507 Sampson street reported to the police this morning that his chicken coop had been broken into and robbed during the night. Six hens and two roosters of the Plymouth Rock variety were taken.

N. Y. STOCKS

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The market was irregular and slightly reactionary in the early trading today, with price movements in speculative favorites somwhat confusing. The oil and the copper stocks moved upward buoyantly, as also did a few of the independent steel stocks. Running in of the shorts in Briggs, Continental Motors, International Nickel, etc., produced an upturn in prices, but other high-priced favorites like Western Union, Victor Talking and Johns-Manville swung off 1-10 points below Monday's high prices. The rubber and tire stocks were active, when Kelly Springfield in demand around 22.

Wall street looks for a tightening up of the money market between this date and the latter part of next week, or after the November settlements and the national election. The November settlements will aggregate about $300,000,000, which will only temporarily tie up this amount of money.

Mariand and Sinclair continued to dominate the independent oils, the former receiving the benefit of official announcement of important changes in officials through the retirement of E. W. Mariand as president and the election of Mr. Moran to that post. The Standard Oils of New Jersey and New York were turned over at fractionally above Monday's close.

U. S. Steel Common was inactive while awaiting the third quarterly earnings statement, due after the close of the market today. Motor stocks were in good demand, with Chrysler and Hupp reaching slightly higher price levels.

The call loan rate was 7½ per cent.

Van Kempen-Rodak Lead Cycle Race

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—Pete Van Kempen and Mike Rodak, the Holland team, coasted easily at the thirty-seventh hour of the six-day bike race here today at the end of 667 miles, two laps in front of Winter and Coburn and three laps ahead of De Baetes and Declerck after a night of wild jamming.

Bobby Walthour, the favorite with the Chicago crowds, was six laps behind the leaders although he tried gamely to improve his position with Willie Fenn during the night.

Van Kempen and Rodak were compelled to be on the alert constantly to maintain their lead as Spencer and Boogman were merciless in trying to lap the field.

National Officers Express Gratification At Response In This County

EFFORT TO RAISE FUND IS SUCCESS

Lawrence county Red Cross officials today announced the receipt of a letter from national headquarters, expressing the profound thanks for the hearty co-operation of New Castle and Lawrence county residents in the recent appeal for hurricane funds.

The writing, sent out by James L. Fieser, acting chairman, follows:

October 12, 1928.

Mr. Walter W. Braham,
Chairman of the Lawrence County Chapter American National Red Cross
Johnson Building,
New Castle, Pa.

My Dear Mr. Braham:

Our American people have again responded to the Red Cross. The intensive effort to raise $5,000,000 for the West Indies hurricane relief has been successfully terminated.

May I express, for the disaster victims and your national officers, their profound thanks for the splendid part you and your chapter workers have had in this appeal.

Our attention is now directed to the completion of plans for a great roll call. We are counting on your co-operation in this, not only through your Community Chest arrangements, but in a carefully planned roll call in the territory which the Chest does not cover. Only five weeks remain before Armistice Day.

Our hurricane relief and fund-raising efforts have strengthened us. The popular interest has been aroused. New and old workers have been active. Newspaper, radio and other publicity has been abundant and effective.

I urge that you utilize all of these values of interest, workers and publicity to insure an even bigger membership than would otherwise have been possible. I am confident, Mr. Braham, that your roll call plans, strengthened by the hurricane appeal and organization, will insure success.

Will you not carry this message to the appropriate committees, workers of your chapter and the public, to the end that our five million membership goal may be reached?

Sincerely yours,
JAMES L. FIESER,
Acting Chairman.

Clarence Smith Severely Injured

Caught Between Two Cars And Has Leg Badly Torn In Accident

Clarence Smith, West Washington street extension, was quite severely injured about noon today, when caught between the cars of Ronald D. Ward, 110 Phillips Place, and Charles Colbert, in front of the Klafter store on North Mill street. The calf of his right leg was badly torn and it required five stitches to close the wound.

Both cars were parked on Mill street in the vicinity of the Klafter store, the Colbert car was in the rear of the Ward car. Mr. Smith had been a passenger in the Colbert car. Mr. Ward was asked by Mr. Colbert to move his car up to give him more room to get in. Mr. Ward forgetting that his machine was in gear, started to do so. His car backed into the Colbert car, damaging it. Mr. Smith was standing between the machines at the time, planning to go with Mr. Colbert and was caught between the two cars and hurt.

RED CROSS FUND TOTALS $2,169.09

Another contribution of $10 from "A Friend", boosted the American Red Cross hurricane relief fund in this country to $2,169.09, attaches stated today.

Southern Ukraine Children Starving, Aid Being Rushed

Estimate About 350,000 Children In Famine Districts Suffering

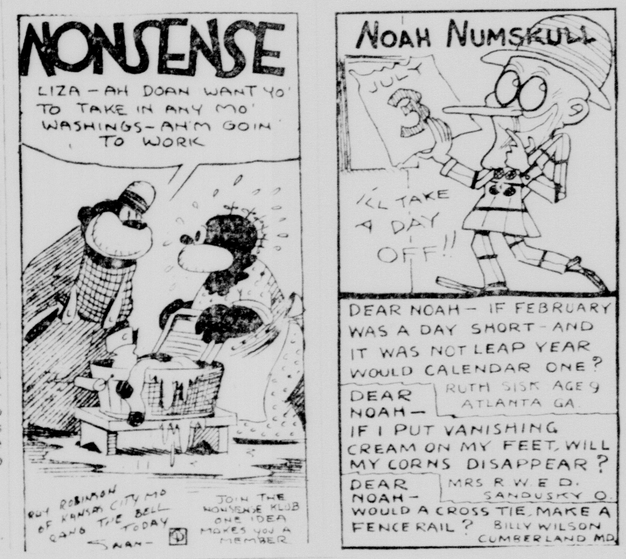

(International News Service)

MOSCOW, Oct. 30.—Aid is being rushed to 350,000 starving children in the famine districts of Southern Ukraine and parts of Crimea where drouth burned up every bit of the crops. The Russian Red Cross subscribed an initial $100,000 for the relief work and is establishing soup kitchens throughout the region.

Premier Rykov, who toured the famine areas on his return from a health cure on the Red Riviera, reported that speedy action is needed to save thousands from starving to death.

Since all the 4,000,000 peasants in the district cannot be provided for immediately, the government decided to give first aid to minor children and mothers nursing infants. Wherever possible hot food will be provided at least once daily.

Typhus has broken out. This disease has killed more than a score of those whose famished bodies were too weakened to resist disease. There are small epidemics of typhus in various parts of the country. No deaths from actual starvation have yet been reported, though many villages are absolutely cut off from the outside world at this time of the year when heavy rains make roads impassable.

Judge Galbreath Named For Bench In Butler County

Jurist Who Is Well Known In Lawrence County, Succeeds Judge Henninger

Friends here of former Judge James M. Galbreath of Butler will be pleased to learn that Governor John S. Fisher has appointed him to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge John R. Henninger. Judge Galbreath frequently held court in Lawrence county when on the bench before, and since going back to the practice of law he has been associate counsel in a number of cases tried here.

Judge Galbreath's popularity in his own county was shown when the Butler County Bar Association got up a petition asking Governor Fisher that he be appointed. The governor made the appointment immediately upon receipt of the petition.

Judge Galbreath was elected and served on the Butler bench from 1903 to 1914. His daughter, Miss Edith B. Galbreath, has been in partnership with him in his law practice since his term of office expired. His appointment will expire on the first Monday of January, 1930.

Two Workers Shot Allegedly Because They Had No Matches

ALIQUIPPA, Pa., Oct. 30.—Accosted by five negroes along the P. & L. E. Railroad, between South Heights and Glen Willard, early today, two men were shot down because they had no matches. Jack Gray, 29, and Jack Miller, 30, employed on the new government dam at Dead Man's Island, are in the Sewickley Valley hospital in a critical condition. Gray has a bullet wound in the head, Miller being shot in the abdomen. Gray dragged himself to a nearby house and gave the alarm. He was taken to the office of Dr. A. J. Pearce, South Heights, and later removed to the hospital. Miller was picked up on the way.

Gray said he and Miller were walking along the tracks when the five men stepped out of the shadows and asked them for a match, to which Gray replied that he had no matches. He says one of the negroes drew a revolver and began shooting.

Sure, let's have the 13-month year with a Friday the 13th in every month. We need them to provide for automobile and airplane fatalities. The Utica Observer-Dispatch.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Errors creep into every newspaper, and occasionally they worm themselves into this colyum. And when they do and are found out, the conductor just whistles for the spotlight of correction and yells "sic 'em".

The dogs are loose today, that is the dogs of correction, to change the metaphor. It seems now that it wasn't DiCarbo that made that famous tackle at Washington last Saturday, it was Tommy Harper, and so with hat in hand, the change is made. Harper made the tackle, but honestly, the mental state we were all in when that fleet-footed Anderson was streaking down the field was enough provocation to forget your own name.

This colyum is more or less a potpourri and too much of any one thing has a tendency to overemphasize the thing. However, we'll risk another dash at football. Next Saturday is Booster Day and you really should be at Franklin field. The idea is to get some money for the band boys' new uniforms, and it would be a fine idea to buy a ticket. In addition you'll see a real football game.

The same group of loyalists who have backed the team and band for years are still working, with a lot of additions. Fellows like Eddie Connery, Doc McConaghy, Ed. Raney, Hub Hart, Bill Connery, Doc Jones, Alec Samuels and oh, such a lot of others, are working this game, and when those lads step around to see you you might just as well sign on the dotted line.

This is the opening day of the Community Chest. You won't forget, will you, that this is the responsibility of all of us? And when the solicitor comes, remember he's doing double duty, asking and giving.

This is the season for masked parties, and the fever seems to have attacked youngsters as young as three and oldsters as high as 83. They do say that it's the one time of the year when our real nature comes out, but I'd hate to think that after seeing some of the costumes.

This is the night the South Side throws its Hallowe'en party. If you want to see a real bang-up celebration, one that will go over with a lot of zip, come down tonight. Plenty of cash prizes and lots of fun.

Song On Street Brings Police

A call recieved last night by the police asked that officers be sent to Moody and Wilmington avenues, it being stated that there was some disturbance there.

Detective C. G. Logan and Officer Robert Dukes answered and on their arrival found Harry Davis of Coaltown sitting on the curb singing "On the Sidewalks of New York."

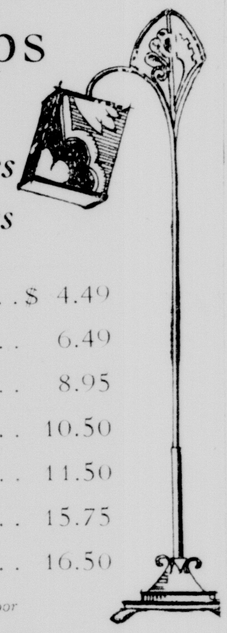

The officers joined in the chorus and when it was concluded, Davis found himself an inmate of the city jail.

THE GREAT ICE AGE

By S. S. MYERS

"How long has it been since the time when this country was covered by a vast sheet of ice? What caused the ice, which scientists tell us was more than a mile thick in places? Will such a condition ever happen again?"

(H. D. M., New Castle.)

No one knows for certain how long it has been since the last Glacial Period in the northern hemisphere. Estimates differ from 10,000 to 25,000 years. The remains of it still linger in the Arctic regions and the Alps and other high mountainous districts. We are supposed to be receeding from the great ice age in the northern hemisphere and approaching it in the southern hemisphere. But the change is very, very slow as compared with the span of human life.

If you were to inquire of an astronomer as to the cause of what is known as the great ice age he would tell you that it was due to the procession of the equinoxes. Now an equinox is the time when the axis of the earth is perpendicular to the plane of its orbit—that is when the sun is directly over the equator, or "crossing the line" as we sometimes say. If the sun were to remain over the equator the days and nights would always be of the same length and there would be no seasons. But the earth tilts on its axis from the vertical to an angle of 23½ degrees as it journeys around the sun. So that during one half of the year the northern hemisphere is tilted toward the sun and the southern hemisphere is tilted away from it.

Another thing, in passing around the sun the earth does not describe a circle, but an illipse and it so happens that the sun is now three million miles nearer the one side of the illipse, and is also happens that when the earth is passing nearest to the sun the northern hemisphere is tilted away from it and we receive only its slanting rays and consequently less heat causing our winter. When the earth is farthest away from the sun the northern hemisphere it tilted toward it and we receive its direct rays and a greater amount of heat.

Those are the conditions at present, but astronomers tells us that the earth's orbit is slowly shifting, causing the sun to appear to be moving across the major axis of the illipse and that there will come a time when the earth will be nearer the sun in summer and farther away in winter. During the long, cold winter huge quantities of ice and snow will accumulate which, during the short summer, will not all be melted, as the summers will not be so hot as might be imagined, owing to the fact that the melting ice and snow will fill the atmosphere with fog and clouds preventing the sun's heat from having the effect it would if the skies were clear. Each winter will accumulate more and more ice until over half of the northern hemisphere will be covered with a solid sheet and the next glacial period will be on. In the meantime the southern hemisphere will be having continuous summer and all snow and ice will disappear.

As stated before, we of the northern hemisphere are supposed to be receeding from the last glacial period and approaching a time when the northern half of the earth will experience an almost perpetual summer. During that time snow and ice will disappear entirely from the northern hemisphere and the Arctic regions will abound with agricultural products. Greenland and the northern regions now covered with ice will bring forth flowers and fruits like once before during an interglacial period as evidenced by the fossil remains of plants and animals found there which today can only exist in a warm climate. But that time is far, far away in the future and we of today can only anticipate it in imagination.

SHORT WORDS

The Canadian tourist sees thousands of signs, "Accommodations for Tourists." On the American side the sign reads, "Tourist Rooms." It would be interesting to know the psychology behind these signs.

Do Canadians use the longer word as expressing something better than just a room or do they use it because that's the word originally used by the roadside host? Brevity commends the shorter term.

CHRISTMAS AHEAD

As you catch a glimpse of Christmas in the future do you prepare a list of friends? A few minutes consideration now on the Christmas list will save hours of grief later.

CAPABLE

Add to the list of interesting people the name of the Hollywood surgeon who removed his own appendix. The doctor thus establishes possession of three things: skill, courage and a sense of publicity.

FASHION

Paris sets women's sytles, London has a reputation for men's vogue, and the United States is dominant in automobile trends. Nevertheless the English car with the roof that can be cranked out of sight is something different.

Small automobiles are numerous among the new English models because of the heavy taxes on large engines.

CURIOUS

The stranger in our land sees about as many strange things as the American traveler sees in his. Here's a Filipino amazed by the long trips taken by American girls without escorts. In the Philippines a girl rarely goes anywhere alone. She is escorted to church, to the dance, and on shopping tours.

CLOP-CLOP

The horse isn't down and out yet. Milk dealers meeting in a national convention recently heard figures to prove that the horse furnishes the most economical method of delivery for ordinary short hauls. Old Dobbin wins out over the truck, and he helps the driver by learning the route. And so the clop-clop on the pavement at 2 a. m. is not a hold-over from the gay nineties. It is a part of modern efficiency.

Sons Of Veterans To Install Officers

Plans are under way by Oscar L. Jackson camp No. 249, Sons of Union Veterans, for the installation of officers at its regular meeting on Friday evening of this week. The meeting will be held in the Sons of Union Veterans hall in the city building with a good attendance indicated. Past Division Commander R. M. Campbell is expected to be present and install the officers.
